

Skill Formation

Interdisciplinary and Cross-National Perspectives

Edited by

KARL ULRICH MAYER

Yale University

HEIKE SOLGA

Social Science Research Center Berlin (WZB/Germany)

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

lib

Contributors page vii

- 1 Skill Formation: Interdisciplinary and Cross-National Perspectives 1
Karl Ulrich Mayer and Heike Solga

PART ONE: CROSS-NATIONAL DIVERSITY IN SKILL FORMATION REGIMES: ORIGINS, CHANGES, AND INSTITUTIONAL VARIATION

- 2 Institutions and Collective Actors in the Provision of Training: Historical and Cross-National Comparisons 21
Pepper D. Culpepper and Kathleen Thelen
- 3 When Traditions Change and Virtues Become Obstacles: Skill Formation in Britain and Germany 50
Steffen Hillmert

PART TWO: THE ECONOMICS AND SOCIOLOGY OF SKILL FORMATION: ACCESS, INVESTMENTS, AND RETURNS TO TRAINING

- 4 Why Does the German Apprenticeship System Work? 85
Christian Dustmann and Üta Schoenberg
- 5 What Do We Know About Training at Work? 109
Philip J. O'Connell and Jean-Marie Jungblut
- 6 Qualifications and the Returns to Training Across the Life Course 126
Walter Müller and Marita Jacob

7	Lack of Training: Employment Opportunities for Low-Skilled Persons from a Sociological and Microeconomic Perspective Heike Solga	173
PART THREE: INDIVIDUALS' ACQUISITION OF SKILLS AND COMPETENCIES: LEARNING ENVIRONMENTS AND MEASUREMENTS OF SKILLS
8	Vocational and Professional Learning: Skill Formation Between Formal and Situated Learning Hans Gruber, Christian Harteis, and Monika Rehl	207
9	How to Compare the Performance of VET Systems in Skill Formation Martin Baethge, Frank Achtenhagen, and Lena Arends	230
	Index	255