Making Global Self-Regulation Effective in Developing Countries

Edited by
Dana L. Brown and Ngaire Woods

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS
Contents

List of Figures vii
List of Tables viii
List of Contributors ix

Introduction 1
Dana L. Brown and Ngaire Woods

1. Making Corporate Self-Regulation Effective in Developing Countries 6
David Graham and Ngaire Woods

2. Do Voluntary Standards Work Among Governments? The Experience of International Financial Standards in East Asia 32
Andrew Walter

3. Do Voluntary Standards Work Among Corporations? The Experience of the Chemicals Industry 62
Michael Lenox

Robert Repetto

5. Bringing in Social Actors: Accountability and Regulation in the Global Textiles and Apparel Industry 113
Dara O’Rourke

6. Responsive Regulation and Developing Economies 149
John Braithwaite

7. Using International Institutions to Enhance Self-Regulation: The Case of Labor Rights in Cambodia 175
Sandra Polaski
Contents

8. Local Politics and the Regulation of Global Water Suppliers in South Africa 201
   Bronwen Morgan

9. Self-Regulation in a World of States 227
   Dana L. Brown

Index 260