CONTENTS

Acknowledgments vii
Introduction 1

1 Old Ways: The Local Road-Building Regime in Late-Nineteenth-Century New York 18
2 New Ways: The Emergence of a Subfederal Road-Building Regime, 1898–1919 50
3 Highways: State-Centered Bureaucracy and the Elevation of Engineer-Administrators, 1919–1931 77
4 Clearing the Way: Depression, War, and the Nationalization of the Bureaucratic Regime, 1931–1945 130
5 Authority: The Thruway and the Consolidation of the Bureaucratic Regime, 1945–1956 180
Conclusion: Warning Signs: Weak Points in the Bureaucratic Regime 233

Notes 243
Bibliography 285
Index 305