

Governing International Labour Migration

Current issues, challenges and dilemmas

Edited by Christina Gabriel and Hélène Pellerin

Contents

List of contributors	xi
Acknowledgements	xiii
List of abbreviations	xiv
Introduction	1
CHRISTINA GABRIEL AND HÉLÈNE PELLERIN
PART 1
Regulating labour migration	11
1 Managing migration and citizenship in Europe: towards an overarching framework	13
ELEONORE KOFMAN
2 Governing labour migration in the era of GATS: the growing influence of lex mercatoria	27
HÉLÈNE PELLERIN
3 Anti-illegal immigration policy: the case of the European Union	43
WILLIAM WALTERS
4 Why international banks became interested in migrant remittances: a critical reflection on globalization, ideology and international migration	60
ALAN SIMMONS
PART II
Constructing categories of migrant labour	79
5 Governing the mobility of skills	81
PARVATI RAGHURAM

x	Contents
6	Revisiting the permanent–temporary labour migration dichotomy DAIVA STASIULIS	95
7	A ‘healthy’ trade? NAFTA, labour mobility and Canadian nurses CHRISTINA GABRIEL	112
8	At the heart of ‘migration management’: immigration and labour markets in the European Union MICHAEL SAMERS	128
	PART III
	Regional dynamics	145
9	The US–Mexico migration honeymoon of 2001: a retrospective MARK J. MILLER AND CHRISTINA GABRIEL	147
10	Migration by the poor and economic globalization: transnational migratory flows in Southern Europe ALAIN TARRIUS	163
11	Governance of economic migration and transnationalization of rights NICOLA PIPER	182
	Conclusion CHRISTINA GABRIEL AND HÉLÈNE PELLERIN	198
	Bibliography	202
	Index	230