The Problem of Jobs

Liberalism, Race, and Deindustrialization in Philadelphia

GUIAN A. MCKEE

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS  CHICAGO AND LONDON
Contents

Acknowledgments vii

INTRODUCTION  Liberals, Race, and Jobs in Postwar Philadelphia  1

CHAPTER 1.  Economic Crisis and Local Liberalism  18

CHAPTER 2.  Good Medicine for Philadelphia? Local Industrial Policy and the Problem of Jobs  41

CHAPTER 3.  "Economic development is but a means": The War on Poverty and Local Economic Planning  83

CHAPTER 4.  "We are going to protest and prepare": Civil Rights and the Origins of OIC  113

CHAPTER 5.  "All 200 million of us are going to make it": The Rise of OIC  137

CHAPTER 6.  "We had to create jobs": The OIC-Progress Movement and Community Capitalism  182

CHAPTER 8.  "You'll never pull it off in this city": Model Cities, Racial Conflict, and Local Industrial Policy  249

CONCLUSION  And All the World Was Philadelphia  282

List of Abbreviations  291
Notes  293
Index  371