THEORY AND PRACTICE OF EC EXTERNAL TRADE LAW AND POLICY

Rafael Leal-Arcas
TABLE OF CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS 13

PREFACE 15

TABLE OF CASES 17

BIBLIOGRAPHY 25

CHAPTER 1 67

INTRODUCTION TO EC INTERNATIONAL TRADE LAW: AN EU INTROSPECTIVE VIEW

I. Objectives and Central Argument 67
   A. Objectives 67
   B. Argument 71

II. An Overview of the Book and Structure 74
   A. Overview 74
   B. Structure 79

III. Contribution of the Book and Research Methodology 79
   A. Intended Contribution/Scientific Originality 79
   B. Relevance of the Project And Intellectual Context 80
   C. Field of Study 82
   D. Research Methodology 82
      D.1. Primary Sources 83
      D.2. Secondary Sources 84
      D.3. Interviews 84

CHAPTER 2 85

THE EU AND INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS 85

I. Introduction 85

II. The Players of the Game 85
   A. The European Union 86
   B. The European Communities 90
   C. The European Community 91

III. The Problem of the EU in its External Relations 91
   A. International Legal Personality 93
      A.1. Legal Personality of the European Community 94
A.2. Legal Personality of the European Union?

A.2.a. Arguments against the Existence of an EU Legal Personality

A.2.b. Arguments for the Existence of an EU Legal Personality

b.1. Analysis of Article 24 TEU: Its Interpretation and Application

b.2. Interpretations on the EU's Capacity of External Action

A.3. Some Reflections

B. Who does What in the EU's External Affairs?

B.1. A Note on the so-called Fourth Pillar and CFSP

B.2. Political and Economic Aspects of Foreign Policy

IV. Theories of Supranationalism

A. Joseph Weiler's Theory

A.1. Normative Supranationalism: Approfondissement

A.2. Decisional Supranationalism

B. Legal Theories of Economic Integration

B.1. Neo-liberal Economic Policy

B.2. The European Community as 'Special-Purpose Associations (Zweckverbände) of Functional Integration'

B.3. Theory of the supranational and intergovernmental dual structure of the EU

C. Theory by Wils

D. Conclusion

CHAPTER 3

EVOLUTION OF EC TRADE POLICY: A LEGAL ANALYSIS OVER TIME

I. Introduction

II. What Is Article 133 EC?

III. The Development of the European Communities' External Action

A. 1952–1958: The ECSC As A Pioneer

B. 1958–1967: The Three Communities Working In Parallel

B.1. Euratom in the External Policies of the Communities

B.2. The Emergence Of The EEC As A Major Negotiating Partner In World Affairs
C. 1967–1977: The Period Of The 'Merger', The End Of The Transitional Period Of The EEC, And The Transitional Period After The First Enlargement

IV. The Debate on the EC's Competence in the Context of the Creation of the WTO
   A. An Overview
   B. The European Community as a Member of the GATT and WTO
   C. Marrakesh: Opinion 1/94 and its Consequences between 1994 and now
      C.1. Consequences for Later Trade in Services Negotiations
      C.2. Duty of Cooperation
   D. The Amsterdam Treaty

V. The End Of A Millenium: The Nice Treaty
   A. History of the Nice Negotiations
   B. The EC Developments in Trade Policy at Nice
      B.1. Qualified-majority voting and the co-decision procedure
      B.2. Changes made to Article 133 EC at Nice
      B.3. What remains unchanged of Article 133 EC at Nice
      B.4. Article 133 EC after Nice
         B.4.a. The New Scope of EC Trade Competence
         B.4.b. Decision-making Procedures
   C. The Outcome of Nice: Comments and Criticism
      C.1. The Logic of Parallelism
      C.2. With Respect to Services Trade and Intellectual Property Rights
      C.3. Greater Transparency and Simplicity?
      C.4. The Extension of qualified-majority voting and Democratic Legitimacy
      C.5. The Failure to Agree on a WTO Protocol
      C.6. Some Reflections

VI. The Constitutional and Lisbon Treaties' Proposals for External Trade Policy
   A. The Union's Exclusive Competence in Trade Policy: Symptoms of a Federation
   B. The Constitutional Treaty and International Services Trade

VII. Conclusions
CHAPTER 4

EVOLUTION OF THE DISTRIBUTION OF POWERS IN EU EXTERNAL RELATIONS

I. Introduction 231
II. Allocation of Competences: A Recapitulation 240
   A. Legislative Competence 240
      A.1. Exclusive EC Competence 241
      A.2. Shared Competence 260
      A.3. Complementary Competence 269
      A.4. Exclusive EU Member States’ Competence 270
   B. Non-legislative or Executive Competence 271
      B.1. Implementation of Legislative Acts 271
      B.2. Administrative, Material or Budgetary Implementation of Community Acts 271
III. Criteria for Evaluating the Distribution of Powers and its Compliance 272
IV. Other Legal Bases for Trade Agreements 282
   A. Association Agreements 282
   B. Non-Preferential Trade And Cooperation Agreements 288
   C. Partnership Agreements 290
   D. Agreements With International Organisations 290
V. Conclusion 291

CHAPTER 5

MIXED AGREEMENTS

I. Introduction 293
II. Mixed Agreements 295
   A. Type of Competence 304
      A.1. Mixed Agreements and EC Competences 305
         A.1.a. External and Internal EC Competences 305
         A.1.b. Express and Implied Powers 315
      A.2. Parallel Competences 320
      A.3. Shared Competences 322
         A.3.a. Concurrent Competences 323
         A.3.b. Coexistent Competences 324
   B. Type of Mixity 328
   C. Questions of International Responsibility under Mixed Agreements 338
III. The ‘Duty of Close Cooperation:’ The Panacea? 347
IV. Conclusion 356
CHAPTER 6

INSTITUTIONAL BALANCE IN THE FIELD OF TRADE POLICY

I. Introduction

II. The Negotiation

A. The Negotiating Procedure: A Three-Level Game
B. The Management of the EC’s International Trade Relations
C. The Article 133 Committee
   C.1. Its Role in Trade Policy
   C.2. Structure and Organisation
   C.3. Relations between the Commission and the Article 133 Committee
      C.3.a. Issuing Directives to the Commission
      C.3.b. Adoption of Agreements by Consensus
      C.3.c Tensions over Control of the EC Commercial Policy
   C.4. The Case of Telecommunications Services
D. NGOs and Civil Society

III. Conclusion and Ratification

A. The Council’s Working Structure
B. The Council’s Role to Conclude Agreements
C. The Council of the EU versus the 27 Member States
D. The European Parliament
   D.1. An Overview and its Role
   D.2. The Changes Proposed by the EU Constitutional Treaty
E. National Parliaments

IV. Implementation and Dispute Settlement

A. Implementation of Agreements
B. Dispute Settlement
   B.1. The EC as a Respondent
   B.2. The EC as a Complainant

V. Tension in the Decision-Making Process in Trade Policy

The Dilemma of Efficiency v Accountability
1. Efficiency at the Cost of Democratic Accountability
2. Four Possible Scenarios
3. Democratic Deficit
4. Concluding Remarks on Efficiency v Accountability

VI. Conclusion
JUDICIAL ENFORCEMENT

I. Introduction
II. The Jurisdiction Of The European Court Of Justice In International Trade
   A. Limited Jurisdiction of the ECJ
   B. Acts Subject To Judicial Review By The ECJ
      B.1. Council Decision To Leave To The Member States
      B.2. International Agreements
   C. Acts Subject To Interpretation By The ECJ
      C.1. Pure Community Agreements
      C.2. Mixed Agreements
   D. With Regard To WTO Law
III. International Agreements in EC Law
   A. The Link between International Law and EC Law
      A.1. Institutional Views
      A.2. Hierarchical Ranking of International Agreements
   B. The Outcome of International Law on the EC Legal System
      B.1. Invocability of an EC International Agreement in an EU Member States’ Court
      B.2. Invocability of an EC International Agreement in the EC Courts
IV. The WTO Agreement in EC Law
   A. The Link between the WTO Agreement and EC Law
   B. Invocability of WTO Agreements in the EC Courts and National Courts
      B.1. Invocability of WTO Agreements in the EC Courts
      B.2. Invocability of WTO Agreements in EU Member States’ Courts
V. The Relationship between the ECJ and the WTO Dispute Settlement Understanding
VI. Conclusions

THE DOHA ROUND AND SERVICES TRADE

I. Prologue
II. The Doha Round
   A. What is a Round?
   B. Why Did We Need a New Round?
CHAPTER 9

THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITY IN THE DOHA ROUND: THE SPECIFIC CASE OF SERVICES TRADE

I. Introduction 539
II. The EC in the Doha Round 540
   A. The EC and the Doha Development Agenda 540
   B. The Case of Services Trade 543
   C. Hong Kong: the Sixth WTO Ministerial Conference 552
      C.1. Objectives of the Conference 554
      C.2. Intent and Examples of the Hong Kong Ministerial Declaration 556
      C.3. Actual Modus Operandi of Services Negotiations: How to Go About Negotiations Among 148 Members, and the Outcome of Hong Kong 558
   D. After the Hong Kong Conference 563
      D.1. Suspension of the Multilateral Talks 564
         D.1.a. The Failure of Multilateralism? 568
         D.1.b. Consequences of Protectionism: Competing Views of NGOs 570
         D.1.c. Trying to Get Negotiations Back on Track and the Way Forward 573
      D.2. Resumption of the Multilateral Talks 580
III. Impact of the Nice Treaty on Services Negotiations 585
IV. Epilogue and Recommendations 590

CHAPTER 10

CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS 593

INDEX 599

ABOUT THE AUTHOR 606