Intellectual Property, Market Power and the Public Interest

P.I.E. Peter Lang

Bruxelles · Bern · Berlin · Frankfurt am Main · New York · Oxford · Wien
Contents

Preface ........................................................................................................................................ 9

Hanns Ullrich & Inge Govaere

PART I. REINFORCING INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY PROTECTION THROUGH MARKET POWER

CHAPTER 1. The Relationship Between the Legal Exclusivity and Economic Market Power. Links and Limits........................................ 13

Josef Drexl

CHAPTER 2. Intellectual Property and Sources of Market Power ...................................................... 35

Mark R. Patterson

Heike Schweitzer

Mario Siragusa

CHAPTER 5. Article 82 EC as a “Built-in” Remedy in the System of Intellectual Property. The Example of Supplementary Protection for Pharmaceuticals in Italy .............. 119

Pablo Ibáñez Colomo

Matteo Negrinotti
PART II. REINFORCING MARKET POWER THROUGH INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

CHAPTER 7. The Strategic Use of Patent Enforcement and Acquisition Methods and Competition Law ........................................... 171
Steven Anderman

Annette Kur

CHAPTER 9. Trademarks as a Tool for Market Control .................. 219
Elżbieta Traple

PART III. INFORMATION DOMINANCE: THE LIMITS OF THE COMPETITION RULES AND THE PUBLIC INTEREST

CHAPTER 10. Can Intellectual Property Rights Be Construed by the Courts to Limit their Use for Anti-Competitive Purposes? ........................................ 241
Eileen Sheehan

CHAPTER 11. Research Tools: Patents and the Information Market in the Knowledge Based Economy ............................. 275
Christine Godt

CHAPTER 12. Exploitative Abuses: Which Competition Policy, Which Public Policy? ........................................ 299
Imelda Maher

Contributors .................................................................................. 313