Contents

PART ONE
FUNDAMENTALS 1

Chapter 1
The Global Marketing Task 3

- Going Global 5
- The New Global Environment 6
  - Antiglobalization and Terrorism 6
  - Anti-Americanism 7
  - Fair Trade 7
  - Global Warming and Green Trade 9
  - The Flat World 10
  - The Dubai Phenomenon 11
  - Regionalization 13
- Key Concepts 14
  - Global Marketing 14
  - Multidomestic Markets 14
  - Global Markets 16
  - Global Products 16
  - Global and Local Brands 17
  - Leading Markets 17
  - First-Mover Advantages 18
  - The Product Life Cycle 19
- Why Companies Go Global 20
  - Market Drivers 21
  - Competitive Drivers 21
  - Cost Drivers 22
  - Technology Drivers 22
  - Government Drivers 23
  - Global Localization 23
- Developing Knowledge Assets 24
  - P&G New Products 24
  - P&G Advertising 25
  - P&G Distribution 25
- Global Marketing Objectives 25
  - Three Hats 26
    - The Foreign Entry Role 26
    - The Local Marketing Role 26
    - The Global Management Role 27
- Summary 27

Chapter 2
Theoretical Foundations 31

- Introduction 33
- Country-Specific Advantages (CSAs) 33
  - Comparative and Absolute Advantages 34
  - The International Product Cycle (IPC) 35
  - National Competitive Advantages 35
  - The New Trade Theory 37
  - CSAs and Country-of-Origin Effects 38
- Firm-Specific Advantages (FSAs) 40
  - Knowledge-Based FSAs 41
  - Marketing-Related FSAs 41
  - Transferability of FSAs 42
  - FSAs and Internalization 44
  - FSAs and Transaction Costs 44
  - FSAs in the Value Chain 46
  - FSAs, CSAs, and Regionalization 47
- Extending Porter’s “Five Forces” Model 48
  - Rivalry 48
  - New Entrants 50
  - Substitutes 50
  - Buyer Power 50
  - Supplier Power 51
  - Rivalry between Global Competitors 51
    - Competitive Strength 51
    - Competitive Repertoire 51
    - Global Rivalry 51
- Strategy and the Three Hats 53
- Summary 54

Chapter 3
Cultural Foundations 57

- Introduction 59
- The Meaning of Culture 60
  - Culture and Buyer Behavior 60
  - Culture and Materialism 61
  - Culture and the Core Benefit 63
- Cultures across Countries 65
  - High versus Low Context Cultures 65
  - “Silent Languages” 66
  - Hofstede’s Cultural Dimensions 66
  - Gannon’s Metaphors 69
- Culture and “How to Do Business” 70
  - Managerial Styles 70
  - Managing Subordinates 71
- Culture and Negotiations 72
  - Know Whom You Are Dealing With 72
  - Know What They Hear 73
  - Know When to Say What 74
- Industrial Buyers 75
  - The Business Marketing Task 75
  - Cultural Conditioning 75
  - Organizational Culture 76
  - Relationship Marketing 77
- The Limits to Cultural Sensitivity 78
  - Nonadaptation 78
Culture and the Three Hats 78
Foreign Entry 78
Local Marketing 79
Global Management 80

Summary 81
CASE 1-1: IKEA's Global Strategy: Furnishing the World 85
CASE 1-2: Globalization Headaches at Whirlpool 90

PART TWO
FOREIGN ENTRY 97

Chapter 4
Country Attractiveness 99

Introduction 101
Regional and Country Indicators 101
Political Risk Research 102
Environmental Research 104
  Physical Environment 105
  Sociocultural Environment 106
  Economic Environment 106
  Trade Blocks and Regulatory Environment 106
Systematic Entry Screening 106
  Stage 1—Country Identification 106
  Stage 2—Preliminary Screening 107
  Stage 3—in-Depth Screening 108
  Stage 4—Final Selection 110
  Personal Experience 111
Country Data Sources 112
Researching Competitors 116
  Strengths and Weaknesses 116
  Competitive Signaling 116
Forecasting Country Sales 117
  A Basic Equation 117
  Stage of the Product Life Cycle 117
Industry Sales 118
  The Build-Up Method 118
  Forecasting by Analogy 118
  An Illustration: TV Penetration 119
  Judgmental Forecasts 120
  Time Series Extrapolation 121
  Regression-Based Forecasts 121
Forecasting Market Share 123
  Predicting Competition 123
  Identifying Competitors 123
  Domestic Competitors 124
  Foreign Competitors 124
Summary 125

Chapter 5
Export Expansion 129

Introduction 130
Four Modes of Entry 131
Exporting 131
Licensing 132
Strategic Alliances (SAs) 132
Wholly Owned Manufacturing Subsidiary 132
The Impact of Entry Barriers 133
  Entry Barriers Defined 133
  The Cost of Barriers 134
  The Importer's View 134
  Tariff and Nontariff Barriers 135
  Government Regulations 136
  Distribution Access 136
  Natural Barriers 137
  Advanced versus Developing Nations 138
  Exit Barriers 138
  Effect on Entry Mode 138
The Exporting Option 139
  Indirect Exporting 140
  Direct Exporting 141
  The Exporting Tasks 141
  Product Shipment 141
  Export Pricing 143
  Local Distribution 147
  Payment 148
  Legal Issues 151
  After-Sales Support 151
Importers as Trade Partners 152
Summary 153

Chapter 6
Licensing, Strategic Alliances, FDI 157

Introduction 159
Licensing 159
  Franchising 161
  Original Equipment Manufacturing (OEM) 162
Strategic Alliances 163
  The Rationale for Nonequity SAs 163
  Distribution Alliances 164
  Manufacturing Alliances 165
  R&D Alliances 165
  Joint Ventures 166
  Outsourcing 167
  Acquisitions 168
Entry Modes and Marketing Control 169
Optimal Entry Strategy 171
  The Entry Mode Matrix 171
  Optimal Modes 172
  Real-World Cases 173
Global Expansion Paths 176
  The "Cultural Distance" Effect 176
  The International Learning Curve 176
  The Internationalization Stages 177
  Born Globals 178
  Waterfall versus Sprinkler Strategies 178
Summary 180
CASE 2-1: Toys “R” Us Goes to Japan 185
CASE 2-2: Illycaffe (A): Internationalization 189
CASE 2-3: Illycaffe (B): The Starbucks Threat 193
CASE 2-4: AOL: International Expansion 196

PART THREE
LOCAL MARKETING 205

Chapter 7
Understanding Local Customers 207

Introduction 209
Buyer Decision Making 210
  Problem Recognition 211
  Search 212
  Evaluation of Alternatives 212
  Choice 213
  Outcomes 214
Local Buyer Research 215
  Problem Definition 215
  Qualitative Research 217
  Consumer Surveys 217
  Trade Surveys 218
  Observational Studies 219
  Explanatory (Causal) Research 219
  Measurement and Scaling 220
  Questionnaire Construction 221
  Sampling 222
  Fieldwork 222
Local Market Segmentation 224
  Segmentation Criteria 224
Local Product Positioning 227
  The Product Space 227
  Strategic Implications 228
  Overcoming Dispositioning 229
  Changing the Product Space 229
  Changing Customer Preferences 230
Three Local Market Environments 231
  Marketing Environment 231
  Marketing Tasks 232
  Country Markets 233
Summary 233

Chapter 8
Local Marketing in Mature Markets 237

Introduction 239
Local Marketing in Mature Markets 239
  Market Segmentation 239
  Product Positioning 239
  Marketing Tactics 240
  Customer Satisfaction 242
Close-Up: Pan-European Marketing 243
  Market Environment 244
  Foreign Trade Agreements 245
  Competition 246
  Market Segmentation 247
Product Positioning 248
Marketing Tactics 250
Close-Up: Marketing in Japan 253
  Market Environment 254
  Foreign Trade Agreements 254
  Competition 254
  Market Segmentation 255
  Product Positioning 256
  Marketing Tactics 256
Close-Ups: Marketing in Australia and New Zealand 258
  Market Environment 258
  Foreign Trade Agreements 259
  Competition 259
  Market Segmentation 259
  Product Positioning 260
  Marketing Tactics 261
Close-Up: Marketing in North America 262
  Market Environment 262
  Foreign Trade Agreements 264
  Competition 264
  Market Segmentation 265
  Product Positioning 265
  Marketing Tactics 265
Summary 267

Chapter 9
Local Marketing in New Growth Markets 271

Introduction 273
Two Kinds of Markets 273
The Role of Trade Blocs 274
Market Segmentation 274
Product Positioning 274
Marketing Tactics 275
Close-Up: Marketing in Latin America 276
  Market Environment 277
  Foreign Trade Agreements 278
  Market Segmentation 279
  Product Positioning 279
  Marketing Tactics 280
  Major Country Markets 283
  Pan-Regional Marketing 286
Close-Up: Marketing in the New Asian Growth Markets 287
  Market Environment 287
  Foreign Trade Agreements 288
  Market Segmentation 289
  Product Positioning 289
  Marketing Tactics 290
  Major Country Markets 293
  Pan-Regional Marketing 294
Close-Up: Marketing in India 295
  Market Environment 296
  Market Segmentation 298
  Product Positioning 299
  Marketing Tactics 300
Summary 302
Chapter 10
Local Marketing in Emerging Markets 307

Introduction 309
Local Marketing in Developing Countries 309
  Market Segmentation 310
  Product Positioning 311
  Pricing 311
  Distribution 312
  Promotion 312
Close-Up: Marketing in Russia and the NDCs 312
  Market Environment 313
  Political and Legal Risks 315
  Market Segmentation 316
  Product Positioning 318
  Marketing Tactics 318
Close-Up: Marketing in China 323
  Market Environment 323
  Foreign Entry 325
  Hong Kong’s Role 327
  Market Segmentation 328
  Product Positioning 328
  Marketing Tactics 329
  Continuous Change 332
Vietnam: Another China? 333
Close-Up: Marketing in the Middle East 333
  Governing Structures 334
  The Islam Factor 334
  Market Environment 335
  Trade Blocs 335
  Market Segmentation 336
  Product Positioning 336
  Distribution 337
  Promotion 338
Summary 338
CASE 3-1: P&G’s Pert Plus: A Pan-European Brand? 343
CASE 3-2: Levi Strauss Japan K.K.: Selling Jeans in Japan 348
CASE 3-3: Colgate-Palmolive: Cleopatra in Quebec? 357

PART FOUR
GLOBAL MANAGEMENT 369

Chapter 11
Global Marketing Strategy 371

Introduction 372
The Global Marketer’s Mindset 373
  Selling Orientation 373
  Standardization 374
  Coordination 374
  Centralization 375
  The New Global Mindset 375

Global Market Planning 375
  The Boston Consulting Group Portfolio Matrix 376
  The GE/McKinsey Matrix 377
  Ford’s Country Matrix 377
  Global Resource Allocation 378
Global Market Segmentation 381
  Macrosegmentation 382
  Diversification versus Focus 385
  A Case Illustration 386
Targeting Segments 387
  Competitive Analysis 387
  Profitability Analysis 388
Global Product Positioning 389
  Key Positioning Issues 390
Global STP Strategies 391
Global Marketing Planning 393
Summary 398

Chapter 12
Global Products and Services 401

Introduction 403
The Pros and Cons of Standardization 403
  The Advantages of Standardization 404
  The Drawbacks of Standardization 405
Which Features to Standardize? 406
Localization versus Adaptation 406
  Basic Requirements 407
  Compatibility Requirements 407
  Multisystem Compatibility 407
Pitfalls of Global Standardization 408
  Insufficient Market Research 408
  Overstandardization 408
  Poor Follow-Up 408
  Narrow Vision 408
Rigid Implementation 409
Global Product Lines 409
Developing New Global Products 410
  Idea Generation 411
  Preliminary Screening 411
  Concept Research 412
  Sales Forecast 413
  Test Marketing 413
Globalizing Successful New Products 414
  New Product Success Factors 414
  Speed of Diffusion 414
Global Services 416
  Characteristics of Services 416
  A Product Equivalence 417
Service Globalization Potential 419
  Stage of the Life Cycle 419
  Infrastructure Barriers 419
  Idiosyncratic Home Market 420
Foreign Entry of Services 420
  Foreign Trade in Services 420
  Service Entry Modes 421
  Entry and Exit Barriers 422
Chapter 13
Global Branding 431

Introduction 432
Brands Defined 434
Global, Regional, and Local Brands 435
Extending the Brand Concept 436
Nation Branding 436
Place Branding 437
How Brands Function 438
Risk Avoidance and Trust 438
Longevity and Familiarity 438
Iconic and Experiential 438
Emotional Drivers 439
Cultural Differences 439
Brand Equity 440
Brand Valuation 441
The Advantages of Global Brands 444
The Disadvantages of Global Brands 444
Global versus Local Brands 445
Acquiring a Local Brand? 446
The Brand Portfolio 446
Globalizing a Local Brand 448
Changeover Tactics 449
Defending Local Brands 449
The Advantages of Local Brands 450
Counterfeit Products 452
Extent of Problem 452
Counterfeit Demand 453
Actions against Counterfeits 454
Summary 455

Chapter 14
Global Pricing 459

Introduction 461
A Global Pricing Framework 461
Pricing Basics 463
The Role of Costs 463
Experience Curve Pricing 463
Competition 464
Demand 464
Financial Issues 465
Exchange Rates 465
Hedging 467
Government Intervention 468
Transfer Pricing 468
Definition 468
The Arm's-Length Principle 469
Approaches to Transfer Pricing 470
Conflicting Objectives 470
Countertrade 471
Business Evaluation 473
Systems Pricing 474
Price and Positioning 475
Price-Quality Relationships 475
The PLC Impact 476
Global Coordination 476
Pricing Actions against Gray Trade 478
Global Pricing Policies 481
Polycentric Pricing 481
Geocentric Pricing 481
Ethnocentric Pricing 481
Managerial Trade-Offs 482
Summary 483

Chapter 15
Global Distribution 487

Introduction 488
Distribution as Competitive Advantage 489
Rationalizing Local Channels 490
Changing Distributors 490
Dual Distribution 491
Wholesaling 492
Vertical Integration 492
Types of Wholesalers 493
Retailing 494
Retailing and Lifestyles 495
Creating New Channels 496
Global Retailing 497
Global Logistics 500
Competition and Technology 500
Air Express 501
Ocean Carriers 502
Overland Transportation 503
Warehousing 503
Parallel Distribution 504
Gray Trade 504
Effects of Gray Trade 505
Channel Actions against Gray Trade 506
Multiple Distribution Channels 508
Global Channel Design 509
The FSAs Revisited 509
Availability of Channels 509
Channel Tie-Up 509
Coordination and Control 510
Summary 510

Chapter 16
Global Advertising 515

Promotion as a Global Advantage 516
The Global Advertising Task 518
The International World of Advertising 518
Advertising Volume 518
Media Usage 520
Global Media 521
Strategic Implications 524
Pros and Cons of Global Advertising 525
  Cost Advantages 526
  Global Markets 526
  Global Products and Brands 526
  Globalization Examples 527
The Global Advertiser's Decisions 528
  Strategy 529
  Budgeting and Organization 531
The Global Advertising Agency 532
  Agency Globalization 532
  The Agency's Task 532
  Message and Creative 535
  Identical Ads 535
  Prototype Advertising 536
  Pattern Standardization 536
  Media Selection 537
The Digitalization of Advertising 539
  Close-Up: Goodyear in Latin America 540
  1. Preliminary Orientation (September) 540
  2. Regional Meeting to Define Communications Strategy (October) 540
  3. Advertising Creative Meeting (November) 541
  4. Qualitative Research Stage (November-December) 542
  5. Research Review Meeting (January) 542
  6. Final Creative Review (March) 542
  Lessons 543
Summary 543

Chapter 17
Global Personal Selling 565
  Managing a Sales Force 565
  Personal Salesmanship 566
  The Presentation 567
  Be Prepared! 568
  Handling Objections 569
  Closing Tactics 569
Integrated Marketing Communications 570
Summary 571

Chapter 18
Organizing for Global Marketing 575
  Introduction 577
    The Context 577
    The Task 577
  Organizational Structure 578
    A Dominant Regional Structure? 583
  The Global Network as an Asset 584
    Painful History 584
    The Win–Win View 584
  Globalizing Management 586
    Global Marketing Directors 587
    Global Teams 587
  Management Systems 588
    Informal Coordination 588
    Coordinating Committees 588
    Coordinating Staff 589
  People and Organizational Culture 589
    Local Acceptance 589
    Corporate Culture 591
    The Expatriate Manager 591
  Global Customers 592
    Global Account Management 593
    Retail Trade Groups 594
  Conflict Resolution 594
    The Good Global Marketer 597
Summary 598
CASE 4-1: Banyan Tree Hotels and Resorts: Building an International Brand from an Asian Base 603
CASE 4-2: Texas Instruments: Global Pricing in the Semiconductor Industry 615
CASE 4-3: United Colors of Benetton 621
CASE 4-4: Cathay Pacific Airways: China or the World? 632
CASE 4-5: Hewlett-Packard's Global Account Management 640

Index 647