Series on Innovation and Knowledge Management - Vol. 7

Knowledge Management
Competencies and Professionalism

Editors
Suliman Hawamdeh
University of Oklahoma, USA
Kimberly Stauss
University of Arkansas, USA
Franz Barachini
Vienna University of Technology, Austria
CONTENTS

Preface ix

Patterns of Organizational Success: Leadership Competence, Organizational Knowledge Sharing and Customer/Market Focus

Carla M. Forrest

Knowledge Management Competencies and Emerging Trends in the KM Job Market

Kristin Thompson, Betsy Van Der Veer Martens and Suliman Hawamdeh

Student’s Co-Construction of Group Project Work via Twiki

Samuel Kai-Wah Chu, John Ngai Cheung, Lisa Duan Yang Ma and David Wilck Ka Wai Leung

Performance of Extrovert Prospective Engineers in Campus Placement and Their Perception of Soft Skills in Qualifying the Same

SP Bedi

Structuring the Competencies for Knowledge Management Executive Program

Roslina Othman, Mohamad Fauzan Noordin and Junaiza Jarjis

Evaluation of Competence Management at Universities

M. Pichlmair and J. Dorn

The Downside of Networks: The Negative Effects of a Graying Workforce on Knowledge Retention

Patricia Katopol

Knowledge Management Governance: Survey Results

Suzanne Zyngier

Knowledge Sharing Processes and Tools in U.S.A Primary Health Care: Analysis of Four Case Studies

Bibi M. Alajmi, Claire R. McInerney, A. John Orzano, Alfred F. Tallia, Abigail Meese and Iulian Vamanu

Collaborative Design of EMR Systems

Yong-Jeong Yi, Ebrahim Randeree and Keon-Hyung Lee

Knowledge Sharing through Online Communities of Practice: An Empirical Study of Chinese and American Employees from a Fortune 100 Company

Wei Li
Study on Process-Oriented Tacit Knowledge Sharing in Knowledge-Intensive Organizations
Lingling Zhang, Jun Li, Quan Chen, Yang Song, Ying Wang, and Yong Shi

Tacit Knowledge Management in Enterprises: A Proactive System to Combat Digital Aggressions
Moufida Sadok

The Relevance of Knowledge- and Innovation Management for the European Automotive Supply Industry: A Case Study
Franz Barachini and Stefan Rankl

Preserving Substantial Knowledge in the Organizational Memory Using Process Modelling and Multicriteria Analysis
Ines Saad

Users = Designers: A Participatory Approach in Designing Knowledge Management System
Dinesh Rathi, Michael B. Twidale, Vandana Singh and Ankur Singh Bisen

Active Computer-Mediated Sharing and Discovery of Scientific Knowledge through Ontologies and Logical Inference
Steven B. Kraines and Weisen Guo

An Analysis of the Implementation Process of Communities of Practice in an Expert Organization
Margit Noll

Strategic Knowledge Management and Asymmetric Information in a Brazilian Electrical Regulation Agency
Roberto Campos Da Rocha Miranda and Shirley Guimaraes Pimenta

Knowledge Management and Enterprise Processes: Review of Agent Based Paradigm
Marco Remondino and Roberto Schiesari

Research on a Knowledge Management Paradigm of Tightly Coupling the Business Process and Knowledge Management Process
Li Yao

The Implementation of a Knowledge Sharing and Collaboration Platform in a Global Environmental Consulting Firm Using Web 2.0 and Dervin's Sense Making Methodology
Bonnie Cheuk