

THE POLITICAL ECONOMY
OF THE NILE BASIN REGIME
IN THE TWENTIETH CENTURY

Table of Contents

List of Illustrations

Abbreviations

Maps

Foreword i

Acknowledgments iv

Introduction 1

Chapter 1

Water Scarcity, Conflict, and Cooperation 13

 The Debate: Water Scarcity, Conflict, and Cooperation 15

 Regime Formation and Institution Building in the Nile Basin 21

 International Water Law and the Emerging Nile Basin Regime 29

 Conclusion 36

Chapter 2

Colonial/Post-Colonial Nile Water Regimes 41

 The Nile River: Ethiopia, Sudan, and the Anglo-Egyptian Condominium ... 43

 The 1929 Water Agreement and Other Treaties 46

 The 1959 Water Agreement and Post-Independence Politics 52

 National Interest: The Politics of Perceptions 58

 Conclusion 65

Chapter 3

Sovereignty and Trans-Boundary River Basins	71
Customary International Water Law and the Behavior of States	73
International Water Law and the Helsinki Rules	77
The 1997 UN Codification of International Water Law and the
2004 Berlin Rules	81
The Berlin Rules on Water Resources	85
Sovereignty and the Politics of Treaties: The Ganges, Jordan, and
Nile Rivers	91
Conclusion	102

Chapter 4

The Political Economy of the Nile River Basin	109
Water Rights as Economic, Social, and Human Rights Issues	110
Poverty and Water Needs in the Nile Basin	116
Sustainable Development and Food Security	134
Conclusion	142

Chapter 5

The Demand for Water and Climate Change	149
Environmental and Demographic Change in the Nile Basin	151
Desertification and Land Degradation	164
Competition Over Water: Drought, Famine, and Resettlement	176
Conclusion	187

Chapter 6

The Nascent Nile Basin Regime	195
Conflict and Cooperation in the Nile Basin	197
From the Hydromet to the Nile Basin Commission	206

Determinants of Cooperation in the Nile Basin	217
The Challenge of Implementation	222
Conclusion	226
Chapter 7
Future Prospects and Challenges	231
Bibliography	237
Index	263