The Economics of Ignorance and Coordination

Subjectivism and the Austrian School of Economics

Thierry Aimar
Assistant Professor of Economics, Sciences Po Paris, University of Nancy 2 and Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne, France and ESSEC Business School, France

NEW THINKING IN POLITICAL ECONOMY

Edward Elgar
Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA
Contents

General Introduction xi

PART 1: FOUNDATIONS

Introduction 3

1. Mises and the Austrian Tradition 5
   1.1 Positivism and Historicism: Specificity of the Social Field 5
   1.2 The Vienna Circle and the Positivist Theories: A Critical View 6
   2 Analysis of the Social Field: Theory and History 10
   2.1 Apriorism, the Foundation of Theory 11
   2.2 History, Field of Understanding 12
   2.3 Practical Complementarity, Epistemological Subordination 13
   3 Mises and His Predecessors: Contentions and Continuities 15
      3.1 Fidelity to a Methodological Approach 16
      3.2 An Epistemological Rift 18

2. Praxeology, Axiomatic System of Economics 25
   1 The Praxeological Model's Structure 25
      1.1 Characters 26
      1.2 Conditions 27
      1.3 Implications 28
   2 Praxeological Subjectivism 29
      2.1 The Reign of Wertfreiheit 29
      2.2 The Rationality of Human Action 31
   3 Praxeology and Psychology 32
      3.1 Preference and Indifference 32
      3.2 Action, Creator of Preference 33
      3.3 The Tendency Towards Equilibrium: A Praxeological Definition 34
3. Action and Interpersonal Exchange: The Limits of the A Priori Approach

1. Varying Forms of Interpersonal Exchange: From Barter to Money 41
   1.1 Barter, a Product of Theory and History 42
   1.2 Indirect Exchange, the Money Price Generator 43
2. Epistemological Problems with Market Exchange 46
   2.1 The Question of Subsidiary Hypotheses: The Constraints of Ignorance 46
   2.2 What Theoretical Bases for Market Economics? 49

PART 2: CATALLAXY, A RESPONSE TO IGNORANCE

4. Market Formation 59
   1. The Sensory Order: Hayek's Contribution 60
      1.1 The Mind as Classifying Structure 61
      1.2 Psychological Foundations of Subjectivity 61
   2. Market and Society 62
      2.1 The Map and the Model: The Role of Pre-Sensory Experience 62
      2.2 Cultural Representations 64
      3. Prolegomena and Prolongations 65
         3.1 Ideal Types: Hayek, Schütz and the Austrian Tradition 66
         3.2 Abstract Rules and Spontaneous Order 68

5. A World of Discovery 73
   1. Markets, Equilibrium and Disequilibrium 73
      1.1 Information Is Not the Same as Knowledge 73
      1.2 Disequilibrium Prices 74
      1.3 Ignorance, Errors and Processes 76
   2. The Entrepreneur-Promoter 78
      2.1 From the Praxeological Entrepreneur to the Market Promoter 78
      2.2 Alertness as Ability of Perception 79
      2.3 The Nature of Learning 81
      2.4 From Ignorance to Knowledge: The Role of Profit 84
   3. The Institutional Dimension of Entrepreneurship 87
      3.1 Competition as a Discovery Process 88
      3.2 Free Entry Competition 91
      3.3 The 'Increment of Freedom' 92
      3.4 The Myth of Social Justice 94
8. Austrian Theory of the Business Cycle

1. First Steps of the Approach
   - 1.1 Capital as Structure, Roundabout Production Processes
   - 1.2 The Two Interest Rates

2. The Monetary Logic of the Cycle
   - 2.1 A Monetary Mirage: The Boom
   - 2.2 The Constraint of Subjectivism: The Crisis

3. Monetary Stability: A Default Solution
   - 3.1 Monetary Neutrality and its Limits
   - 3.2 From Gold Standard to Private Currencies

4. The Great Debates
   - 4.1 Savings, Investment and Money: The Hayek Keynes Collision
   - 4.2 'Equilibrium' and 'Equilibriums': Hicks' Critique
   - 4.3 Real Economies versus Monetary Economies: The Hayek-Sraffa Debate

9. Welfare Economics: Workable Definitions

1. The Market and Satisfaction: A Procedural Approach to Welfare
   - 1.1 Exchange Producing 'Social Utility'
   - 1.2 The Kirzner Alternative: Coordination as Process
   - 1.3 Private Property as a Condition of Forming Plans: 'Catallactic Efficiency'

2. Neo-Austrian Welfare Economics and Normativity
   - 2.1 The Argument of 'Demonstrated Preference'
   - 2.2 From Wertfreiheit to Free Market Normativity
   - 2.3 The Pre-eminence of Value Judgements

3. An Open Question: The Argument of Survival
   - 3.1 Survival and Coordination
   - 3.2 A Praxeological View of the Survival-Normativity Relation
   - 3.3 Unprescribed Normativity
Contents

Appendix: Schumpeter and the Austrian Tradition 247

General Conclusion 255

Bibliography 257
Analytical Index 291
Index of Names 299