EU and the Balkans: Policies of Integration and Disintegration

Edited by

Leila Simona Talani

Cambridge Scholars Publishing
TABLE OF CONTENTS

List of Figures: viii
List of Tables: ix

Introduction: 1
EU and the Balkans: Policies of Integration and Disintegration
Leila Simona Talani

Chapter One: 5
Balkan Nationalisms in the European Integration Processes: Ambiguous Impacts and Controversial Outcomes
Maria Bakalova
  Abstract
  Introduction: Contextualising the Problem
  1. Answers And Arguments
  2. Conceptualising Nationalism
  3. The impact of European integration on Balkan nationalisms
  4. Conditionality and Minority Issues
  Conclusion
  References

Chapter Two: 19
The Implications for Macedonia of the Independence of Kosovo—A Repeat of the 2001 Conflict?
Zhidas Daskalovski
  Abstract
  Introduction
  1. Different Agendas and Interests
  2. Possible Scenarios
  3. Macedonia’s Ethnic Politics and the Status of Kosovo
  4. Independent Kosovo: Implications for Macedonia
  Conclusion
  References
Chapter Three................................................................................................................................. 39
Public Opinion and EU integration: Influences on the policy process in Macedonia and in the EU
Dane Taleski

Abstract

Introduction
1. The link between public opinion and public policy
2. Public opinion surveys - reach and limitations
3. Attitudes in Macedonia on the process of EU integration
4. Attitudes in the EU on the process of EU enlargement
5. Trajectory of support and public opinion influences on the EU integration/EU enlargement process
Conclusion
References
Appendix: Data used for the public opinion analysis

Chapter Four....................................................................................................................................... 71
Europeanization and the Instrumentality of Imposing a Minority Discourse: Reflections on Bulgaria’s and other CEE New EU Member and Candidate Countries’ Experience
Plamen Ralchev

Abstract

Introduction
1. Europeanization through Conditionality or through Discourse?
2. Minority Protection as Conditionality and Discourse
Conclusion
References

Chapter Five ....................................................................................................................................... 85
The EU and the Western Balkans: SAP as an Instrument of Regional Stabilisation
Claire Gordon

Abstract

Introduction
2. The emergence of the regional approach to post-conflict stabilisation
3. The incremental transformational approach to post-conflict stabilisation and EU integration
4. The evolution of the multiple stages of SAP conditionality: the perennial ‘moving target’ problem
5. SAP as a modified template of CEE Accession Process
6. Minority Rights and Post-Conflict Stabilisation
7. The challenge of operationalising minority rights conditionality
8. Measuring progress and the lack of clear benchmarks
9. The gap between rhetorical commitments and funding

Conclusion
References

Chapter Six ........................................................................................................................................ 127

Bulgarian Participation in EMU: Who Wins and Who Loses?
Leila Simona Talani

Abstract
Introduction
1. The Institutional conditions for participation in EMU
2. The distributional consequences of EMU from a theoretical perspective
3. The distributional effects and macroeconomic impact of Bulgaria joining the euro: Hypotheses and evidence
Conclusion
References
References in Bulgarian

Conclusion ........................................................................................................................................ 165

Panacea or Public Debate?
Susan L. Woodward

Contributors .................................................................................................................................... 169