DEVELOPING A LEARNING CULTURE IN NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONS

STEPHEN J. GILL
Independent Consultant
Contents

Foreword ix
Preface xi
Acknowledgments xvii

1. Need for a Learning Culture 1
   Need for Change 1
   Cultural Transformation 5
   Organizational Learning 6
   Examples of Organizational Learning 7
       Community-Based Service Agency 7
       Community-Based Arts Organization 8
       Large Research Hospital 9
   Sources of Pressure for Organizational Improvement 9
   Organizational Self-Assessment 11
   Summary 14

2. Barriers to a Learning Culture 15
   Program Focus 16
   Limited Resources 17
   Work-Learning Dichotomy 17
   Passive Leadership 18
   Nonlearning Culture 19
   Resistance to Change 20
   Not Discussing the Undiscussable 21
   Need for Control 21
   Focusing on Short-Term, Simple Solutions 22
   Skilled Incompetence 23
3. Creating a Learning Culture

Continuous Learning
Role of the Board
Organizational Learning
Organizational Learning Versus Training
Levels of Learning
  Individual Learning
  Team Learning
  Whole Organization Learning
  Community Learning
Learning How to Learn
Communication
Leadership
Performance Incentives
Physical Environment
Actions for Developing a Learning Culture
Summary

4. Individual Learning

Definition of Learning at the Individual Level
  Feedback and Reflection
Methods
  Instructor-Led Classroom Seminars, Workshops, and Courses
  Personal Visioning
  Individualized Learning Plans
  Self-Reflection
  Logs, Diaries, and Journals
  Job Rotation
  Individual Coaching
  Mentoring
  Computer Technology
  On-the-Job Training
Tools for Individual Learning
Summary
5. Team Learning

Work Group Versus Team

Team Development

Stages of the Drexler/Sibbet Team Performance Model

Stage 1: Orientation
Stage 2: Trust Building
Stage 3: Goal/Role Clarification
Stage 4: Commitment
Stage 5: Implementation
Stage 6: High Performance
Stage 7: Renewal

Reflective Inquiry

Team Learning Methods

Shared Vision
Action Learning
Continuous Measurement
Dialogue
Learning History
Meeting Management

Summary

6. Whole Organization Learning

Learning About Vision
Learning to Be Integrative
Learning to Take Risks
Learning to Connect People
Learning About Structure

Evaluative Inquiry

Methods for Learning at the Whole Organization Level

Organizational Self-Assessment
Benchmarking
World Café
Appreciative Inquiry
Large-Scale Learning Events

Summary

7. Community Learning

Community Feedback and Reflection