Contents

Preface xi

Introduction xxv

I. INDIAN AGRICULTURE IN THE PRE-REFORMS ERA

I. Phases of Agricultural Development

1. Traditional Agriculture 2
2. Technologically Dynamic Agriculture—Low Capital Technology 3
3. Technologically Dynamic Agriculture—High Capital Technology 4

II. An Analysis of Price and Production Under Different Phases

1. Price and Production Trends in the Pre-Reform Era (1951-52 and 1990-91) 10
   (i) The First Sub-Phase i.e. between 1951-52 and 1966-67 11
   (ii) The Second Sub-Phase i.e. between 1967-68 and 1979-80 36
   (iii) The Third Sub-Phase, i.e. between 1980-81 and 1990-91 52
2. INDIAN AGRICULTURE IN THE POST REFORMS ERA

I. Overview of India’s Agricultural Economy

II. Analysing Agricultural Performance in the Post Reforms Era

1. Analysing Agricultural Production
2. Analysing Agricultural Area under Cultivation
3. Analysing Agricultural Yield

III. Comparing the performance against Tenth Five Year Plan targets

IV. Agricultural Production: A comparative analysis of Pre and Post Reform era

V. Liberalising and Globalising: Indian Agriculture

(a) Productivity gains from globalisation and economic reforms
(b) Increase in agricultural exports and value-added activity
(c) Access to domestic and international markets

VI. Agricultural Prices: A comparative analysis of Pre and Post Reform era

VII. Trends in Agricultural Production and Prices during the four Sub-Phases

VIII. Comparing Indian Agriculture vis-à-vis Other Countries (Specially Production and Prices) in both Pre and Post Reform Era

1. Comparing Production
2. Comparing International Prices

3. AGRICULTURAL PRICE POLICY IN INDIA

I. Objectives of the Agricultural Price Policy
Contents

1. Stabilisation of Farm Prices 125
2. Basis for Fair Price 126

II. Price Policy during 1947-64 129

III. Price Policy after 1964 133

IV. Minimum Support/Procurement Prices 134

V. Public Distribution System (PDS) 138
   1. Buffer Stocks and Food Security System 138
   2. Cost-effectiveness of PDS vis-a-vis Other Safety net Programmes 142
   3. Targeted Public Distribution System (TDPS) 145
   4. Trade Liberalisation, Crop Diversification and Food Security 147

VI. Agricultural Price Policy in India after Reforms 148
   1. Export and Import Policies 151
   2. Impact of QR removals 153
   3. Internationalisation of Indian Agriculture 154
   4. Agricultural Price Policy in Post-Import Liberalisation Period 157
   5. Use of Variable Tariff as control instrument 159
   6. Issues relating to MSP 161
   7. Major issues with respect to Agricultural Price Policy 162

4. ISSUE OF AGRICULTURAL SUBSIDY 170
   I. Input Subsidies in Indian Agriculture 173
      1. Measuring the Subsidies 174
      2. Degree, Trend and Dispersion 175
   II. Support to Indian Agriculture: Degree, Direction and Composition 179
III. Subsidy: A Cross-country viewpoint 186
1. India’s Challenge on Subsidy reforms 191
2. Whether Indian Agriculture is Subsidised or Taxed? 195
3. The Hong-Kong Round and the issue of Agriculture Subsidy 197
4. Price Support versus Input Subsidy: India’s Position 200

IV. The Need for Reforms 202

5. IMPACT OF WTO ON INDIAN AGRICULTURE 212
I. Agreement on Agriculture (AoA): 214
II. Three Fundamental Clauses Under AoA 216
   (1) Market Access 216
   (2) Export Subsidy 224
   (3) Domestic Support 227
III. Sanitary and Phyto-sanitary Measures 232
IV. Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPs) 233
   (1) Patenting of Seeds 235
   (2) Implications of IPR on Agriculture 237
V. Emerging Issues 241
VI. Some Apprehensions and Recent Experiences Under Trade Liberalisation 244
   1. Implications for Consumers 244
   2. Implications for Farm Producers 248
   3. Implications for Natural Resources 250
VII. WTO Negotiations and India 251
VIII. India’s Experiences under WTO 253
IX. Export Concentration/Diversification 262
   1. Herfindahl Index 262
   2. Gini-Hirschman Measure of Concentration 263

6. CONCLUSION AND POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS 268

Appendices 287
Bibliography 297
Index 309