TABLE OF CONTENTS

FIRST PART
INTRODUCTIVE ISSUES

CHAPTER 1
American companies in Europe: issues and perspectives .......... 9
Hubert Bonin & Ferry de Goey

1. Convergence, Americanization, and Europeanization .......... 11
   The chronological trend ...................................... 17
   The Europeanization of US firms .......................... 20
2. Europe within the scope of American firms' strategy of foreign investment ....................................................... 17
3. Research issues ................................................ 24
   Strategy ......................................................... 24
   Structures & Identity ........................................ 24
   Reception ...................................................... 24
   Performance ................................................... 25
4. The contributions: a short Survey ........................... 25
   Introductive Challenges ..................................... 25
   Case studies in a few countries ............................ 26
   Industries and institutions .................................. 28
   American firms and European unification .................... 31
5. Concluding remarks .......................................... 32

CHAPTER 2
US business in Europe: an American perspective ............. 35
Mira Wilkins

1. The time dimension ............................................. 38
2. US Business offerings in Europe ................................ 45
3. Variations by individual European host countries ............... 51
4. Issues about the adaptability .................................. 56
5. Are outward foreign direct investments a sign of strength? And inward foreign direct investments a sign of weakness? ........ 63
Conclusion ......................................................... 65
SECOND PART
CASE STUDIES IN A FEW COUNTRIES

CHAPTER 3
First American firms coming to France
(from the 1900s to the 1930s) ........................................ 71
Hubert Bonin

1. Direct investments: taking profit of the technological edge ... 74
2. American firms cloaked as French companies .................. 83
   A. The significant cases of Thomson-Houston (from 1893) and Schneider-Westinghouse (from 1929). ............... 85
   B. ITT disguised into the French firm CGCT .................... 88
   C. French bankers promoting Standard Oil .................... 89
   D. A first discreet step on consumer markets .................. 93
3. Moves between independency and partnership:
   Kodak and Ford ................................................. 93
   A. Kodak adapted to the French market ....................... 93
   B. The move of Ford toward French embeddedness .......... 94
4. Indirect bridgeheads of technical advance:
   Transfers of technology ........................................ 95
Conclusion ......................................................... 101

CHAPTER 4
The case of US companies in Switzerland .......................... 105
Margrit Müller

1. Direct investments and the international competitiveness of firms and nations ........................................... 106
2. Quantitative analyses of US direct investments in Switzerland 108
3. US companies in Switzerland ...................................... 110
   A. US companies during an early period: 1901-1975 ......... 111
   B. US investment during the period 1976-2003 .............. 114
4. Industry and case studies of US companies in Switzerland ... 119
   A. The US petroleum industry in Switzerland ............... 120
   B. The automobile industry and the case of General Motors in Switzerland ............................................. 120
   C. The computer and IT industry and the case of IBM ...... 121
   D. US companies in highly competitive branches of the host country .................................................... 123
      a. The case of Bulova watches. .............................. 123
      b. Chemicals-pharmaceuticals and the case of Cilag ...... 124
      c. US finance and insurance in Switzerland ............... 126
Conclusion ......................................................... 127
CHAPTER 5
Investing in a developing economy: US and European direct investments in Italy (1915-1970)
Andrea Colli

1. Research issues and methodology ................................. 130
2. Background, existing research and available sources........... 131
3. American FDI in Italy on the eve of WWI ......................... 133
4. Between the two wars ............................................. 137
5. The evolution of American investments after WWII .............. 140
6. Problems and issues about American investments in Italy .... 146

CHAPTER 6
US Multinationals in the Netherlands in the 20th century:
"The open gate to Europe"
Ferry de Goey & Ben Wubs

1. Dutch-American relations: a short history ....................... 151
2. Overview of US investments in the Netherlands .................. 157
   A. US direct investment by sector and region .................... 161
   B. US direct investment by strategy ............................... 163
3. Case-studies: Ford, IBM, and Dow ............................... 165
   A. Ford Netherlands .............................................. 165
   B. IBM in the Netherlands ....................................... 169
   C. Dow Chemical in The Netherlands ................................ 175
Conclusion ...................................................................... 181

CHAPTER 7
US Investments in Spain (1898-2005)
Enrique de Miguel Fernández & Vicente Sanz Rozalén

1. The first US investments (till WWI) ............................... 186
2. Booming American investments (1920s-1930s) ..................... 189
3. American Investments from the 1940s .............................. 191
4. The impact of American firms on the Spanish economy ........ 198
5. Sectoral developments of American companies in Spain ....... 200

CHAPTER 8
Foreign direct investment, economic aid and modernization:
US firms in Spain (1920-1975)
Adoración Álvaro Moya

1. The first wave of American investments (1914-1936) ............ 211
2. Instability, withdrawals and business opportunities
   (1936-1950) ....................................................... 218
Conclusion ...................................................................... 227
CHAPTER 9
US Investments in Denmark, 1945-1972.
An overview with focus on motives and attitudes ............... 229
Peter Sørensen & Kenn Tarbensen

1. US Investments in Denmark before 1957 ..................... 230
   A. US Investments in Denmark before World War II .......... 230
   B. US Investments in Denmark in the European context, 1945-1956 .............................................. 231
   C. Kraft Foods: a milestone in 1956 ........................ 234
2. Danish incentives to attract foreign investments in 1957-1972 235
   A. The big campaign in 1957 .................................. 235
   B. Incentives in the 1960s .................................... 238
3. US Investments in Denmark in 1957-1972 ..................... 239
   A. Numbers and sizes: an overview ........................ 239
   B. Lines of US business in Denmark .......................... 241
4. US Investments in selected sectors ............................ 242
   A. US Investments in car industry .......................... 242
   B. US Investments in oil, refineries and service stations .. 245
   C. US Investments in the service sector ..................... 252
   D. US Investments in the food industry ..................... 255
   E. US Investments in the cosmetics industry ................. 260
5. Motives and attitudes of the US investors in Denmark ........ 263
   A. The motives of the US Investors: typical examples . ... 263
   B. The motives of Danish owners who sold their firm .... 271
   C. The attitudes of the Danish government and authorities.. 272
   D. The attitudes of Danish business organisations and trade unions ........................................ 274
Conclusion .................................................................. 276

THIRD PART
INDUSTRIES AND INSTITUTIONS

CHAPTER 10
The Singer Company in Russia, 1897-1917 ....................... 283
Irina Potkina

1. The beginning of Singer’s activity in Russia ................ 284
2. The creation of Russian Singer Company .................... 285
3. The main results of Singer’s activity ......................... 287
4. Singer’s sales network and advertising ...................... 289
5. Singer’s public image .......................................... 292
6. The Company caught between Russian-American reality and its perception as German ............... 295
Conclusion .................................................................. 297
CHAPTER 11
American multinationals in British retailing, 1850-1962:
Performance and identity .......................... 299
Andrew Godley

1. Mapping the performance of American multinationals in British retailing ............................ 301
   A. American investment into food ............ 303
   B. American investment into clothing ....... 304
   C. American investment into confectionery, tobacconists and newsagents ............................... 305
   D. American investment into other retail activities 307

2. Entry strategies and the British retail environment 309
   A. American investment into showcase retailers 312
   B. American investment into distributors of novel durables 312
   C. American retailers .......................... 313

3. The outliers: The Anglicization of Singer and Woolworths ... 315
   A. The case of Singer .......................... 315
   B. The case of Woolworth’s .................... 317

Conclusion ........................................ 318

CHAPTER 12
The limits of American multinationals in consumer goods: The case of automobile and consumer electronics in France (1892-1992) 321
Patrick Fridenson

1. Direct investment ............................... 322
   A. Consumer electronics ....................... 322
      a. Thomson .................................. 322
      b. Washing machines ......................... 323
      c. Refrigerators .............................. 324
      d. TV sets .................................. 325
   B. Automobile ................................. 325
      a. French calls for help .................... 325
      b. The initiatives of the Big Three ....... 326
      c. Ford and GM return as components and parts manufacturers .............................. 328

2. Influence by other means ........................ 329
   A. Exports ................................... 329
   B. Licensing .................................. 329
   C. Joint ventures and tie-ups .................. 332
   D. Channels of reception ...................... 334
      a. Banks ................................... 334
      b. Engineers ................................. 335

Conclusion ........................................ 335
CHAPTER 13
Coping with “Cooperative Capitalism”: Procter & Gamble's market entry in Germany in the 1960s
Suzanne Hilger

1. The history of American FDI in Germany 341
2. “Germany last”? Procter & Gamble's foreign business in Europe before and in the aftermath of WWII 344
3. Strategy and Structure: P&G’s Market Entry in Germany 348
4. Perception: American Market Behaviour from a German Perspective 352
5. Reception: The transfer of American marketing strategies to Germany 356
6. Performance at Deutsche P&G 359
Conclusion 361

CHAPTER 14
Anglo-American relations and the co-production of American “hegemony” in pharmaceuticals
Viviane Quirke

1. American hegemony and the British pharmaceutical industry 365
   A. American versus British 366
   B. American subsidiaries and the British pharmaceutical industry 368
2. Drug discovery and Anglo-American relations in the twentieth century 371
   A. Before 1939: vitamins and hormones 371
   B. Anglo-American collaborative programmes in pharmaceuticals during WWII 373
      a. The case of synthetic anti-malarials 374
      b. The case of cortisone 374
      c. The case of anti-cancer agents 374
      d. The case of Penicillin 375
3. The “special relationship”, or collaboration and competition in pharmaceuticals post-WWII 376
   A. A “typical” case study? Glaxo and the development of corticosteroid drugs 377
   B. A “special” case study? ICI and the development of the beta-blockers 379
      a. Forged by war: ICI's Pharmaceutical Division 380
      b. The American “model” and the building of Alderley Park 380
      c. A departure from the American “model”? The beta-blockers 381
      d. A twist in the tale? H2-antagonists at SK&F 382
Conclusion 383
CHAPTER 15
AmCham Spain and the transformation of Spanish business, 1917-2007 ......................................................... 385
José-Luis García-Ruiz & Núria Puig

1. Cotton: The commodity underlying Spanish-American economic relations throughout the 20th century ............... 387
2. Giving support to Spanish-US trade: AmCham Spain (1917-1923) 388
3. Innovating in troubled times: lobbying, arbitration, advertising, and tourism (1923-1930) ............................. 390
4. The search for a comparative advantage during the Great Depression (1930-1939) ........................................ 392
5. Americanization in Franco’s Spain (1939-1975) .............. 393
6. Rise and decline of AmCham Spain in the post-war Franquist regime (1939-1960) ....................................... 397
   A. Looking at the United States with hope (1939-1944) .... 397
   B. Troubled years (1945-1950) .................................. 398
   C. AmCham and the economic normalization of Spain (1950-1959) ......................................................... 400
   D. AmCham and the European re-orientation of Spanish trade by the Franquist regime (1960-1975) ...................... 402
7. Spain’s final Europeanization and AmCham’s crisis (1975-2005) 403
Conclusion .................................................................. 406

CHAPTER 16
The history of the Paris American Chamber of Commerce (1894-1994). .................................................. 411
Arthur Higbee

1. The creation of the American Chamber of Commerce (1894) .... 411
2. Closer French-American relationship (till 1893) ............... 412
3. A growing influence (1895-1913) .................................. 414
4. War and peace (1914-1945) ....................................... 416
5. Pax Americana (1946-1960) ....................................... 419

CHAPTER 17
The case of US companies in Russia-USSR: FORD in 1920s-1930s .................................................. 435
Boris Shpotov

1. The first acquaintance ............................................ 435
2. “Fordism” and Socialism .......................................... 438
3. Difficult adhesion to fordism ................................. 441
Conclusion ................................................................ 446
FOURTH PART
AMERICAN FIRMS CONFRONTED TO EUROPEAN UNIFICATION

CHAPTER 18
Ford's strategy towards European integration after World War II 459
Thierry Grosbois

1. Ford's industrial strategy and post-War European integration . 460
   A. Ford in Europe before the Treaty of Rome ............... 460
   B. The Common Market, Ford of Europe, and the Europeanization of Ford's networks ............. 462
2. The political role played by the Ford Foundation in Europe . . 470
   A. Ford Foundation help towards European movements before 1956. .................................................. 470
   B. Ford Foundation's European aid after 1956 Budapest revolution. ..................................................... 478
Conclusion ......................................................... 481

CHAPTER 19
How to deal with internationalisation strategies of US business?
The reception of Ford by British and German trade unions
Thomas Fetzer

1. Conceptual framework: International labour market ........... 486
2. Ford's path to international business integration: The creation of Ford of Europe ................................................. 489
3. The perception of Ford's internationalisation by German and British trade unions. .......................................... 491
   A. The German case ........................................... 492
   B. The United Kingdom case .............................. 495
4. The diverging dynamics of inter-nationalisation ............... 498
Conclusion ......................................................... 500

CHAPTER 20
American business spreading modernity into France.
Equipment goods and mass brands. Strategies, identity and perception (from the 1940s to the 1980s). .......................... 503
Hubert Bonin

1. Power and perception: The technological brand image of American companies (from the 1950s to the 1980s) .......... 508
   A. The American company and European progress:
      The making of a brand image .......................... 508
B. The penetration of the “technological” brand images (in the 1940s-1950s) ........................................... 510
C. The triumph of the innovating brand (in the 1960s-1970s) 512
D. The corporate identity: displaying the power of the American groups ........................................... 516

2. A tidal wave of marketing and publicity know-how:
The spread of the American way of life and of modernity
(from the 1950s to the 1980s) .................................. 522
A. Promoting the American brand of comfort .................. 523
B. Promoting the American brand of hygiene .................... 526
C. Promoting American lifestyle at home ......................... 529
D. Promoting American lifestyle out of the home ............ 534

3. Efficiency and productivity: American corporations modernizing and reorganizing French firms ............................... 538
A. American corporations advising French companies ....... 538
B. American corporations modernizing and reorganizing French office ................................ 542
C. American corporations modernizing and reorganizing labour in French companies .................................. 545

4. American corporations rushing to French market .......... 546
A. Did the Americans penetrate the French colonial territories? ..................................................... 546
B. The commercial consolidation of American firms ........ 548
C. Tactical alliances between American and French companies? ..................................... 550
a. Strong partnerships for the franchisees ....................... 550
b. The multiplication of ad hoc manufacturing partnerships 551
D. The consolidation of American industries ................. 557
a. The assault of the American chemical industry .......... 560
b. American power in the engineering industry ............. 561
c. The consolidation of the engineering and automobile industries in the 1960s-1970s ............................... 566
d. The success of the American system in the electromechanical industries .................................................... 570
E. A chronology which went in step with the restructuring of the markets ................................................ 572

5. An estimate of the American economic clout in France in the years 1950-1970s ............................................... 575
A. The domination of key sectors in the 1960s ............... 575
B. The increase in the penetration during the 1970s .......... 579

6. Anti-American sentiments versus the attraction for American brands .......................................................... 580
A. The first anti-American moves? ............................... 581
TABLE OF CONTENTS

B. Some anti-American action? ........................................ 583
C. Building challengers capable of standing up to the American giants ........................................... 590
D. Building European challengers ................................. 593

7. Reaching honourable Franco-American compromises ....... 594
   A. Opening France up to American investments ............. 594
   B. The co-operation with Westinghouse ....................... 597
   C. The GE-SNECMA co-operation ............................... 598
   D. American enterprises as saviors of French companies? .. 600

8. Tactics employed by American companies to anchor themselves in more firmly ........................................ 606
   A. Subsidiaries being mere tools ............................... 607
   B. Subsidiaries endowed with room for commercial maneuvering .................................................. 609
   C. Subsidiaries developing strong personalities ............ 612
   D. Companies being as much French as American? .......... 615
      a. Esso France as part of French industrial heritage? ... 616
      b. ITT as a French company ................................ 616
      c. IBM as a French company ................................ 620

   A. American enterprises and the French social system ...... 626
   B. Corporate communication campaigns ....................... 630
   C. Respecting French sensibilities: “Superiority” tempered with “modesty” .................................. 633
   D. American firms as a leverage of a more modern France .. 636
   E. The clash of corporate cultures: a “Frenchification” of American enterprises? .................................. 639
   F. Frenchmen at the head of American corporations? ...... 641

Conclusion ......................................................... 642

Concluding remarks ............................................... 649

1. An easy US penetration? ........................................... 649
2. Chronological aspects: Only a stage in European history? 652
3. American firms as European corporations .................... 653
4. American firms' might reconsidered .......................... 655
5. Is ownership and nationality still relevant through globalisation? .................................................. 658

The contributors .................................................. 661

Index of persons ................................................ 669

Index of companies .............................................. 675

Acknowledgments ................................................ 686