Making Sense of Vague Management Ideas

Anders Örtenblad

AKADEMISK AVHANDLING

För avläggande av filosofie doktorsexamen i företagsekonomi som med tillstånd av Handelshögskolans fakultetsnämnd vid Göteborgs universitet framläggs för offentlig granskning fredagen den 21 november 2008, kl. 10:15,
I sal O124 på Högskolan i Halmstad,
Linjegatan 12, Halmstad
Contents of the covering paper

Preface 1

Introduction 3

On the need to clarify vague management ideas 9

The benefits of a middle-way between simplification and chaos 9

Background to my personal research interests 11

How it all began 11

The seductive power of vagueness 11

The relief of diversity as a solution 12

Reflections on the desire to define 12

Management ideas as sets of sub-ideas 15

Definition of the term management idea 15

Studies of management ideas: some different approaches 17

Studies of the terms alone 17

Studies that start out from a pre-defined version of the term 18

Studies of what is meant by a specific term 18

Studies of practice 19

Sets of sub-ideas 19

Sorting the sub-ideas out 23

The appended papers 27

Summaries of the appended papers 27

Paper 1: On differences between organizational learning and learning organization 27

Paper 2: A typology of the idea of learning organization 28

Paper 3: Toward a contingency model of how to choose the right type of learning organization 29

Paper 4: The learning organization: Towards an integrated model 30

Paper 5. Guest editorial: What more do we need to know about the learning organization? 31

Paper 6: Vague and attractive: Five explanations of the use of ambiguous management ideas 32

Paper 7: Odd couples or perfect matches? Five approaches to combined concepts such as organizational learning and knowledge management 33

The appended papers – an overview 34

Connections between the papers 36

Implications for idea users 41

Types of use and efficiency 41
How much of the ideas returns in the users' constructions 42
Ideal types of users 42
The Absorber and ideas as sets of sub-ideas 43
The innovator and ideas as sets of sub-ideas 44
The legitimator and ideas as sets of sub-ideas 45
The seducer and ideas as sets of sub-ideas 46
The patcher and ideas as sets of sub-ideas 46
Conclusion 47

The researcher's role 49
Normative research into ideas as sets of sub-ideas 50
Interpretive research into ideas as sets of sub-ideas 51
Critical research into ideas as sets of sub-ideas 51
Dialogical research into ideas as sets of sub-ideas 52
Discussion and conclusions 53

Conclusions and main contributions 55

References 59