BUSINESS EXCELLENCE AND COMPETITIVENESS IN THE MIDDLE EAST AND NORTH AFRICA

Editor:

Dr. Allam Ahmed

SPRU – Science & Technology Policy Research,
The Freeman Centre,
University of Sussex,
Falmer, Brighton, BN1 9QE,
UK

E-mail: allam@worldsustainable.org

Published by Inderscience Enterprises Ltd
BUSINESS EXCELLENCE AND COMPETITIVENESS IN THE MIDDLE EAST AND NORTH AFRICA

Contents

List of Figures

List of Tables

List of Abbreviations

Preface

Allam Ahmed, University of Sussex, UK

Acknowledgements

Notes on Contributors

SECTION - 1: Introduction

1. Achieving business excellence and competitiveness in the MENA region

Allam Ahmed, University of Sussex, UK

SECTION - II: Strategic Co-operation and Integration

2. Strategic co-operation and sustainable economic integration: the crisis of Arab/Islamic countries in the era of globalisation

Mosad Zineldin, Växjö University, Sweden

3. Yemen’s integration in the world economy

Ahmed Farouk Ghoneim, Cairo University, Egypt

4. The welfare cost of Darfur conflict in the Sudan

Alamedin A. Bannaga, Institute for Banking and Financial Studies (IBFS) and Yagoub Ali, University of Khartoum, Sudan

SECTION - III: Competitiveness and Effectiveness

5. Competitive policies and macroeconomic volatility in MENA countries

Doaa M. Salman, October University for Modern Science and Arts, Egypt
6. Efficiency and competitiveness of top listed companies in Egypt
   Mohamed M. Mostafa, Gulf University for Science and Technology, Kuwait

7. Training within oil and gas-based industries in Qatar
   Hend A. Jolo, Qatar University, Qatar

8. The implementation of Quality Control Circles (QCCs) in Qatar
   Salaheldin I. Salaheldin, Qatar University, Qatar

9. Effective inventory management and competing against cost
   in the UAE
   Khalid Alrawi, Al-Ain University of Science and Technology, UAE

10. The Bahrain crafts industry: problems, solutions and future prospective
    Ali Hasan Follad, Ministry of Industry and Commerce, Kingdom of Bahrain

SECTION – IV: Technological Transformation

11. Strategic planning of the petrochemical industry
    Ghanima Al-Sharrah, Kuwait University, Kuwait and Ali Elkamel, University of Waterloo, Canada

12. Exploring critical determinants of m-commerce adoption in Jordan
    Saad Ghaleb Yaseen, Al-Zaytoonah University, Jordan

13. Identifying the critical success factors for e-commerce effectiveness: the case of Qatar
    Elias A. Hadzilias, Lille Catholic University, France

SECTION – V: Finance and Banking

    Kofi Amoateng, North Carolina Central University, USA

15. Dividend signalling by financial firms
    Abdelaziz Chazi, American University of Sharjah, UAE

16. Competitiveness and the transformation of banking risk management with implications for Arab banks
    Moh'd Mahmoud Ajlouni, Yarmouk University, Jordan

17. Case analysis of the Moroccan stock market: a financial risk management approach
    Mazin A. M. Al Janabi, United Arab Emirates University, UAE
SECTION – VI: Organisation Behaviour and Culture

18. Arabian management theory ................................................................. 267
   Abdel Aziz M. Abu Naba’a, Zaytoonah University, Jordan

19. The Arabian cultural attitude towards organisational decision-making theories ................................................................. 286
   Marwan N. Al Qur’an, Al Yamamah College, Saudi Arabia

20. Corporate environmental disclosure in Libya ........................................ 295
   Nassr S. M. Ahmad, Academy of Graduate Studies, Libya and Morrison Handley-Schachler, Napier University, Scotland

SECTION – VII: Entrepreneurship and Small Business

21. The development of entrepreneurship in the Middle East and North Africa: an overview of constraints and perspectives .................................................... 309
   Mohand-Said Oukil, King Fahd University of Petroleum and Minerals, Saudi Arabia

22. The ‘entrepreneurial remedy model’: the tool to understand the entrepreneurial development in the western contra Arabic countries .................................................... 319
   Adli Abouzeedan, Breyer State University, USA

23. Establishing and developing small businesses in the Kingdom of Bahrain .................................................... 334
   Mohammed Almossawi, University of Bahrain, Kingdom of Bahrain

Index
   Author Index .................................................................................................. 351
   Keyword Index ................................................................................................. 352
   Subject Index ................................................................................................. 357