From Agglomeration to Innovation

Upgrading Industrial Clusters in Emerging Economies

Edited by

Akifumi Kuchiki

and

Masatsugu Tsuji
Contents

List of Tables v
List of Figures xi
Acknowledgements xiii
Notes on the Contributors xiv

1 Introduction
Masatsugu Tsuji and Akifumi Kuchiki

Part I Learning Linkage as Drivers for Creating Cluster and Innovation

2 The Automobile Industry Cluster in Malaysia
Akifumi Kuchiki 15

3 Industrial Cluster Development and Innovation in Singapore
Poh-Kam Wong, Yuen-Ping Ho and Annette Singh 50

4 Empirical Analysis of the Relationship between Upgrading and Innovation of Japanese SMEs and Industrial Clustering
Shoichi Miyahara and Masatsugu Tsuji 117

5 Collective Goods for Reformatting the Rio de Janeiro Software Cluster into a Local Innovation System
Antonio José Junqueira Botelho, Alex da Silva Alves and Glaudson Mosqueira Bastos 166

6 Innovation through Long-distance Conversations? Experience from Offshoring-based Software Clusters in Bangalore, India
Aya Okada 204

Part II Market Pooling and Organizational Change as Drivers for Creating Cluster and Innovation

7 A Comparative Analysis of Organizational Innovation in Japanese SMEs Generated by Information Communication Technology
Masatsugu Tsuji and Shoichi Miyahara 231
8 The Role of the Specialized Markets in Upgrading Industrial Clusters in China
Ke Ding

9 Industrial Clusters and Workplace Training to Expand Innovation Capability: Evidence from Manufacturing in the Greater Bangkok, Thailand
Tomohiro Machikita

10 Innovation as a Driver for Building an Oil & Gas Industrial Cluster in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil
Antonio José Junqueira Botelho and Glaudson Mosqueira Bastos

11 Conclusion
Akifumi Kuchiki and Masatsugu Tsuji

Index