

---

Learning by Example

IMITATION AND INNOVATION
AT A GLOBAL BANK

David Strang

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY PRESS
PRINCETON AND OXFORD

Contents

---

Preface	ix
Introduction	1
SECTION ONE: Setting the Scene: Benchmarking and a Bank	25
CHAPTER 1 Benchmarking as a Management Technique	27
CHAPTER 2 Global Financial and Team Challenge	55
SECTION TWO: The Process of Benchmarking: How and Who?	79
CHAPTER 3 Practical Reasoning and the Case for Change	81
CHAPTER 4 The Construction of a Reference Group	109
CHAPTER 5 Interorganizational Influence	142
SECTION THREE: The Results of Benchmarking: Proposals and Programs	171
CHAPTER 6 Common Moves in Organizational Reform	173
CHAPTER 7 Personal and Programmatic Impact	194
CHAPTER 8 Global Financial's Corporate Quality Initiative	215
CHAPTER 9 Some Lessons from the Search for Best Practice	247
Bibliography	265
Index	281