Managing Business Risk

A practical guide to protecting your business

7th edition

consultant editor: Jonathan Reuvid

KoganPage

LONDON PHILADELPHIA NEW DELHI
Contents

Foreword by Steve Fowler, Chief Executive Officer, The Institute of Risk Management (IRM)   xvi
Preface by Marie Gemma Dequae, Federation of European Risk Management Associations (FERMA)  xix
Contributors’ notes xxv

Introduction 1

Part 1: Risk Management Strategies 3

1.1 Using risk tolerance statements to embed operational and strategic risk management 5
David Breden, Strategic Risk Consulting Practice, HSBC Insurance Brokers Ltd
Introduction 5; Risk tolerance statements for operational risk 7; Risk identification and assessment 8; Scenario analysis in operational and strategic risk management 9; Incentive structures to support risk management 10; Conclusion 10; Notes 11

1.2 Back to basics – getting enterprise risk management right in turbulent times 12
Alistair Black, European Enterprise Risk Management Practice, KPMG LLP
Introduction 12; What are the reasons for failure? 13; What opportunities are being missed? 13; What improvements are required? 14; How organizations should respond 15

1.3 Scenario-building techniques for improved risk management 17
Richard Pike, CCH, a Wolters Kluwer business
Scenario building 18
1.4 Standardizing risk management – business enabler or the risk manager’s straitjacket?
Allan Gifford, Strategic Risk Consulting Practice, HSBC Insurance Brokers Ltd
BSI’s Code of Practice for Risk Management, BS 31100 24; Riskier business environment? 24; Help or hinder? 25; Do these ‘standards’ restrain risk management or enable it? 27; Supporting the risk manager 27; The outside world 28; Conclusions 29; Note 30

1.5 Corporate responsibility – a risk management tool
Pauline Hylton, Lloyd’s Register Quality Assurance (LRQA)
Background 31; What transparency means 33; What consumers are saying 34; Where to start 35; Understanding stakeholder needs 35; Internal and external stakeholder engagement initiatives 37; What are the pitfalls? 37; What are the benefits? 37; Summary 38

1.6 Political risk
Corene Crossin and James Smither, Control Risks
Step 1: evaluate the threat context 40; Step 2: map stakeholders 41; Step 3: anticipate change 42; Step 4: risk assessment 42; Step 5: risk management 43; Conclusion: the keys to effective political risk management 44

1.7 Risk management in emerging technology areas: nanoparticles – a test case
Stephen Cash, NanoCentral
The innovation process in the UK 47; The nanoparticles example 48; The UK government initiative 49; The role of NanoCentral 50; Managing risks in the nanomaterials area 51; The precautionary principle 51; Reaction to advances in risk understanding 52; Providing stakeholder reassurance 52; Conclusion 54; Note 54

Part 2: Insurance and Legal Liability Risks

2.1 Taking a holistic approach to risk management and insurance
Martin Drury, Towergate Corporate
Introduction 57; Defining insurance and risk management 58; Defining contexts 59; Identifying and evaluating insurable risks 61; Using risk information 62; Appetite and total cost of risk considerations 63; In summary 64
2.2 The dangers of ignoring environmental liabilities

Simon White, XL Insurance

Introduction 66; Making the polluter pay 66; The Environmental Liability Directive 67; Wide remit 68; The cost of cleaning up 69; Financial provision 71

2.3 Health and safety compliance

Andrew Templeton, Corporate Customer Group, HSBC Insurance Brokers Ltd

Setting the scene 74; Legal background 75; Health and safety in a recession 77; Other relevant legislation 78; Conclusion 79

2.4 The role of professional indemnity insurance in managing business risk

Daniel Rouse, Field Fisher Waterhouse LLP

Introduction 80; What exactly is PII? 81; Who needs it? 81; Why have it? 81; Premium 82; The role of the broker 83; Indemnity limits and the excess 84; Claims 84; Conclusions 85

2.5 Brand and reputation management: how the law of defamation can help

Rhys Griffiths, Field Fisher Waterhouse LLP

Introduction 86; What is defamation? 87; What is the relevant court procedure and what remedies are available if you win your case? 88; Special concerns regarding the internet 89; Conclusion 90

2.6 Software escrow – an effective tool for managing risk and new business opportunities

Stephan Peters, Deposix Software Escrow GmbH

Introduction 91; What can go wrong – negative examples and risky situations 93; What can go right – positive examples and opportunities gained 94; Escrow explained 95; Risk and opportunity management with software escrow 99; Conclusion 101; Note 102

2.7 Corporate manslaughter: the new landscape

Rhys Griffiths, Field Fisher Waterhouse LLP

Introduction 103; Why the Act has been introduced 104; The new offence of corporate manslaughter 105; The first stage: a gross breach of a relevant duty of care? 106; The second stage: the senior managers 106; Ramifications of the new Act 107; How to prepare for the new Act 107; Note 108
2.8 Conducting internal investigations
Alexandra Underwood, Field Fisher Waterhouse LLP
Introduction 109; Duties to investigate 110; Common pitfalls 111; Monitoring 111; Tipping off 113; Reputational damage to the subject of the investigation 113; The Data Protection Act 1998 114; Blagging 115; Conclusion 116

Part 3: Defining and Managing Intellectual Property Risks

3.1 Risky patents
Kim Simelius, Tampereen Patenttitoimisto Oy
Risks in creating patents 120; Risks from patents of other companies 121; Managing risks related to patents 122; Summary 122

3.2 Managing through the downturn: intellectual property optimization
Matthew Hogg, Liberty International Underwriters and Fredrik Motzfeldt, Marsh Ltd
Introduction 123; Intellectual property in a downturn 124; Optimization of intellectual property 125; Conclusions 130; Notes 131

3.3 Securing the investments in your brand
Ari-Pekka Launne, Kolster Oy Ab
The changing brand landscape 132; The planning or pre-registration phase 133; Securing the rights 134; Follow-up and enforcement 135; And the other way around... 136; Conclusions 136

3.4 Patent infringement and non-validity risks: opportunities and dangers in the context of intellectual property risk management
Rolf Rings, Rings & Spranger
Introduction 139; Patent rights as opportunities and obstacles in business 140; Patent infringement risks 140; Patent non-validity risks 141; IP risk management measures for reducing infringement and non-validity risks 142; Notes 146

3.5 What is freedom to operate and why do you need it?
Barry Franks and Kristian Fredrikson, Brann AB
Defining a freedom-to-operate analysis 148; When a freedom-to-operate analysis should be made 150; Defining the subject of a freedom-to-operate analysis 151; Using the results from a freedom-to-operate analysis 152
3.6 Recognizing IP-related problems arising from the development of the internet
Ari-Pekka Launne, Kolster Oy Ab
The scene 154; Domain name-related risks 155; Use of trademarks on the internet 158; Conclusions 159

3.7 IP due diligence – evaluating a target company’s IP assets before agreeing terms in a merger, acquisition or investment
Annelise Holme, Holme Patent A/S
Identification 162; Relevant IP 162; Ownership 163; Inventor 163; Strength of the portfolio 164; Patents 164; Freedom to operate 166; How to ensure that an IP portfolio is attractive to a potential investor 166; Conclusion 167

3.8 Innovation risk management – evaluating your freedom to operate
Karri Leskinen, Borenius & Co Oy Ab
Innovation risk assessment – minimizing risks 169; Evaluating your freedom to operate 170; Managing innovation risks 171; Potential opportunities 172; Protecting your technology 173; Conclusion 173

3.9 IP risk estimation and management: the example of patents and patent portfolios
William E Bird, Bird Goën & Co
The commercial risks 175; The patent portfolio 178; The small and medium-sized company 179; The future – patent auctions 180; The spectre of third-party patent infringement 180

Part 4: Operational Risk Management

4.1 Embedding risk management and systems
David Lawson, Lloyd’s Register Quality Assurance (LRQA) and Nathan Skinner, StrategicRISK Magazine
Boosting the risk management process 186; Health and safety 186; Business reputation 187; Cost reduction 187; Shrinking markets 187; Operational risk 188; Communication of risk information 188; Transparency of business processes 188; Certifying the risk-based approach 189; Conclusion 189

4.2 Human factors in operational risk: the final frontier
Paul Saville-King, Critical Engineering Services, Norland Managed Services
Introduction 191; Causes of failure 193; How can I judge my culture? 195; What human factors look like 196; Giving change a helping hand 197; Conclusion 197
4.3 Making risk management deliver business value
Ruth Murray-Webster and Peter Simon, Lucidus Consulting Limited
What does risk management really mean for business? 199; How published standards and methods help, and how they hinder 200; The complication of human factors 201; Understanding all the uncertainty, but managing the unusual risks 203; Driven to precision 203; Risk management needs to be exciting, not boring 204; Walk the talk 204; Act of faith, or proven concept? 205; References and further reading 206

4.4 The role of document management in managing risk
Julian Buck, Version One Limited
Introduction 207; Inadequate business continuity plans 209; The role of EDM in continuity planning 209; Document management as a fraud prevention tool 210; Corporate fraud is on the increase 211; Document management as an enabler to corporate governance 212; Conclusion 212

4.5 The role of access control in risk management
Keith Hardy, Nortech Control Systems
Introduction 215; Access control overview 215; Credentials 216; Access control points 216; Networked access control 217; The wider options 217; Case studies 218; Conclusion 219

4.6 Managing supply chain risk
Emma Brooks, Chartered Institute of Purchasing & Supply (CIPS)
The current environment 220; The effect of modern working practices 221; Customer of choice 221; Struggling suppliers 222; The right tools for the job 223; What can we do? 224; Practical steps to reducing supply chain vulnerability 224; Stay ahead of the game 226

4.7 Competence and confidence – accreditation and risk management in post-recession Britain
Jon Murthy, UKAS
UKAS – accreditation and UK plc 228; Quality management – know thyself 228; Confidence in inspection 229; The certainty of uncertainty 230; Insurance – a bit of culture 230; When the worst occurs 231; Conclusion 231
4.8 A question of perspective: uncertainty, resilience and efficiency
Allan Robinson, Appleyards
Introduction 233; What are uncertainty, resilience and efficiency? 234; Assumptions and uncertainty 235; Assumptions, resilience and efficiency 237; Opportunity and optimism 239; Uncertainty analysis 239; Reduced uncertainty 240; Summary 241

4.9 Sometimes the softer issues cause the hardest problems
Graham Massie, Centre for Effective Dispute Resolution (CEDR)
Personalization of risk 243; Perception of risk 244; Quantification of risk 245; Over-reliance on limited data 246; Motivated scepticism 246; Groupthink 246; Notes 247

Part 5: Patent Filing, Defence and Litigation

5.1 Reducing business risk through patent strategy
Gunnar Baumgärtel, Maikowski & Ninnemann
Patents 251; Protecting intellectual property through patents 253; Freedom to operate 254; Conclusions 255

5.2 Patent filing strategy to minimize litigation risk
John Moetteli, Moetteli & Associés SàRL
Introduction 257; The 10 most compelling reasons for filing first in the United States 258; Exceptions 262; Conclusions 263; Notes 263

5.3 Mitigating risk when managing intellectual property in the United States
Helene Vik, Ipendo Inc
Introduction 265; Intellectual property – part of the business strategy 268; Building an IP portfolio – geography and industry’s IP intensity 268; Risk assessment of IP operations 269; Litigation – an extended licensing tool 271; US changing legal and regulatory environment 271; Insurance for intellectual property 272; What businesses must do – best-practice approach to IP risk avoidance 272; Conclusion 273; References 274

5.4 The European patent system
Marco Serravalle, Serravalle sas
The PCT route 275; How to obtain a patent 277; The different steps to obtain a patent 277; New EPO rules 278; The London Agreement 279; Opposition to a granted European patent 279; Conclusions 280
5.5 Patent infringement and damage claims – a new era in Europe in terms of business risks 281
Armin K Bohmann, bohmann || bohmann (Bohmann & Loosen)
Obtaining patent protection in Europe 283; Claim interpretation under the national laws governing the national parts of a European patent 283; Rights conferred by a patent in Europe 284; Basic considerations of Directive 2004/48/EC 285; Summary 286

5.6 Strategies for coordinating acceleration of international patent prosecution 287
Andrea Schüssler, Huber & Schüssler
Patent Prosecution Highway 289; Accelerated examination in the United States 291; Accelerated examination in Europe 292; Strategic considerations in using the PPH and/or accelerated examination 292; Summary 293

Appendix: Contributors’ contact list 294
Index 303
Index of advertisers 307