SOCIO-ECONOMIC MODELS AND POLICIES TO SUPPORT ACTIVE CITIZENS: CZECH REPUBLIC AND EUROPE

OPRAVA ISBN:
Správné ISBN titulu vydavatelství Matfyzpress

Socio-Economic Models and Policies to Support Active Citizens: Czech Republic and Europe
(Michal Mejstřík et al.)

ISBN 978-80-7378-074-6
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Summary

1 Public Policy Studies in Europe. Towards a Comparative Framework for Public Policy Studies (the Cases of the USA, France, Germany and the Czech Republic)

Abstract

1.1 Introduction

1.2 Some notes on preliminary assumptions

1.3 On the fundamentals of the contemporary approach to public policy studies

1.4 An outline of comparative frame for public policy studies

1.5 Conclusion

References

2 The Central Eastern European Countries: What European Social Models and Growth?

Abstract

2.1 Introduction

2.2 A brief history of the European Social (and Economic) Model

2.3 Current discussions of the European Social Model

2.4 The European Social “(Sub-)Models” and an impact assessment thereof

2.5 The European Social “(Sub-)Models” and structural changes

2.6 European Social Models and the new EU member states: Each state should learn from the best practices and avoid the worst practices

2.7 European Social Models and the new EU member states’ domestic and foreign policies

2.8 Conclusion

References

3 Political Risk of Social Security: Evidence from Reforms in Hungary and the Czech Republic

Abstract

3.1 Introduction

3.2 Description of pension reforms

3.3 Methodology and data

3.4 Results
3.5 Conclusion
References
Appendix

4 Labour Migration and Welfare Effects of Free Mobility of Labour in the Common Market

Abstract

4.1 Marshallian surplus

4.2 Labour mobility between two countries and the indicator of migration cost

4.3 Propensity to migrate and the indicator of migration cost

4.4 Welfare considerations

4.5 Empirical evidence

4.6 Conclusion
Acknowledgements
References

5 Social Policy and Social Problems in Central and Eastern Europe and the EU. The Case of the Care Sector in Poland

Abstract

5.1 Introduction

5.2 Trends and developments in long-term care in Poland

5.3 Legal regulations and the institutional framework

5.4 Strategies to improve quality

5.5 Modernisation of the long-term care sector

5.6 Accessibility of long-term care services

5.7 Conclusion
References

6 First Results of a Comparison of Expert Investigations into the Situation of Disabled Persons Conducted in 2000 and 2007

Abstract

6.1 Introduction

6.2 Objectives

6.3 Methodology

6.4 Records

6.5 Results of the 2000 expert investigation

6.6 Comparison of experts' opinions from the two investigations

6.7 Conclusion
References
7  Problem Drug Use, Marijuana and European Money: How Epidemiology Helped Czech Policy Reformers 157
   Abstract 157
7.1 Introduction 158
7.2 The PDU concept is born within European drug epidemiology 159
7.3 PDU is used in a 1999-2001 Czech drug policy analysis 160
7.4 Arguing the normality of the Czech drug situation 161
7.5 Conclusion 164
   References 165

8  The Corporatisation of Hospitals 169
   Abstract 169
8.1 Introduction 170
8.2 Objectives, questions, method 171
8.3 Analytical framework and its theoretical foundations 172
8.4 Analysis of the development of hospital care organisation in the USA, Europe and the Czech Republic 179
8.5 Corporatisation of hospitals in the Czech Republic 182
8.6 Conclusion 190
   References 191

9  Transformation of the Czech Entrepreneurial Elite and the Conditions for Economic Development 197
   Abstract 197
9.1 Introduction 198
9.2 Entrepreneurs and capital 198
9.3 Entrepreneurship and the end of central planning 201
9.4 The social structure of entrepreneurship before and during communism 204
9.5 The mechanism of communism's demise 207
9.6 Entrepreneurship in the early stages of transition 211
9.7 The changing structure of entrepreneurs in the later stages of transition 214
9.8 Conclusion 219
   References 220

10 Czech Deposit-Guarantee Schemes in Comparison with the EU 225
   Abstract 225
10.1 Introduction 226
10.2 Results of comparison 231