Investing in hospitals of the future

Bernd Rechel, Stephen Wright, Nigel Edwards, Barrie Dowdeswell, Martin McKee
Contents

About the authors vii
Foreword ix
Acknowledgements xi
Glossary xiii
List of abbreviations xv
List of figures, tables and boxes xvii

Part one: The changing context of capital investment 1

Chapter 1 Introduction: hospitals within a changing context 3
Bernd Rechel, Stephen Wright, Nigel Edwards, Barrie Dowdeswell, Martin McKee

Chapter 2 New models of long-term care and implications for service redesign 27
Pieter Degeling, Jonathan Erskine

Part two: Influencing capital investment 45

Chapter 3 Planning health care capacity: whose responsibility? 47
Stefanie Ettelt, Martin McKee, Ellen Nolte, Nicholas Mays, Sarah Thomson

Chapter 4 Concept planning: getting capital investment right 67
Knut Samset, Barrie Dowdeswell

Chapter 5 Capital investment and the health care workforce 85
Bernd Rechel, James Buchan, Martin McKee
Part three: Economic aspects of capital investment

Chapter 6 Market competition in European hospital care
Hans Maarse, Charles Normand

Chapter 7 Capital financing models, procurement strategies and decision-making
Geert Dewulf, Stephen Wright

Chapter 8 Life-cycle economics: cost, functionality and adaptability
Svein Bjerberg, Marinus Verweij

Chapter 9 Facility management of hospitals
Kunibert Lennerts

Chapter 10 The economic and community impact of health capital investment
Jonathan Watson, Simona Agger

Part four: Design issues

Chapter 11 Translating hospital services into capital asset solutions
Bernd Rechel, Stephen Wright, Martin McKee

Chapter 12 Sustainable design for health
Rosemary Glanville, Phil Nedin

Part five: Conclusions

Chapter 13 Conclusions and critical success factors
Bernd Rechel, Stephen Wright, Nigel Edwards, Barrie Dowdeswell, Martin McKee

Index