Global Challenges and Policies of the European Union
– Consequences for the “New Member States”

Edited by
Maria Piotrowska and Lech Kurowski
Contents

Introduction ........................................................................................................................................... 9

Agnieszka Baer-Nawrocka, Ewa Kiryluk-Dryjska: The influence of the integration with the European Union on Central and Eastern European countries’ agricultural productivity ................................................................. 13

Oscar Bajo-Rubio, Carmen Díaz-Roldán: Monetary-and fiscal policies in the transition to EMU: An overview of the Spanish experience ................................................................. 22

Adam P. Balcerzak: Structure of financial systems and development of innovative enterprises with high growth potential .................................................................................................................. 30

Adam P. Balcerzak, Elżbieta Rogalska: Effectiveness of Polish labour market: Taxonometric analysis of European Union countries in the years 2004-2007 .................................................................................. 40

Monika Bekas-Nowak: The function of the National Debt Register in countering payment gridlocks in Poland .......................................................................................................................... 49

Dominika Bochańczyk-Kupka: The influence of EU membership on country’s competitiveness – The case of Estonia .................................................................................................................. 57

Rokas Bekeris: Are SMEs prepared for the crisis, as the biggest companies are? ................................................................................................................................................................................. 67

Egidijus Bikas, Daiva Jureviciene: Approach to personal behaviour finance .................................................................................................................................................................................. 75

Andrzej Cieśluk, Bartłomiej Rokicki: The impact of the EU cohesion policy programmes on Polish regions .................................................................................................................................................. 89

Greta Druteikienė, Jovita Seiliutė: The stand of social responsibility within the strategy of business organization .......................................................................................................................... 109

Arūnas Dulkys: The euro area enlargement: A paradigmatic view .............................................................................................................. 119

Małgorzata Dziembala: Interregional migration of employees in the EU with particular attention paid to Poland in the process of deepening the European economic integration .................................................................................. 132

Pawel Folfas: Foreign direct investments in the time of crisis: FDI inflows to the new EU member states ........................................................................................................................................... 144

Ewa Freyberg: European Union „Better Regulation” Programme and its impact on the competitiveness of New Member States ........................................................................................................... 154

Tomasz Galewski: Information literacy as a basic skill in information society .......................................................................................................................... 164
Tomasz Galewski, Paweł Kuśmierczyk: Real Time Enterprise – A new approach to competition ................................................................. 172

Birutė Galiniūnė, Junona Bumelytė: European Investment Bank’s financial assistance to Lithuania and its role in economy transformation .................. 181

Dariusz Garczynski: Changes in operational risk management in Polish co-operative banks ................................................................. 191

Tadas Gudaitis: Evaluation of Lithuanian pension system reform and financial crisis implications .......................................................... 198

Małgorzata Magdalena Hybka: Unrevealed sources of revenue – Disclosure and taxation procedures in Poland ............................................. 207

Ryszard Kata, Alina Walenia: Regional diversity in absorbing the EU funds supporting transformation and development of agriculture in Poland ................................................................. 217

Anna Barbara Kisieliłowczyc: EU strategy for the Baltic Sea Region (BSR) in time of crisis ............................................................................. 228

Karol Kociszewski: The role of the European Union in international development support system ............................................................. 237

Valentyn Kosynskyi: Modelling of business processes by computer imitation ...................................................................................... 247

Tetyana Kravets: Some aspects of construction of the enterprises rating estimations ................................................................................. 253

Radosław Kurach, Jerzy Stelmach: Analyzing the financial markets linkages – The subprime crisis case .................................................... 260

Paweł Kuśmierczyk: First-price sealed-bid auction with additional price negotiations: Theoretical analyses and results of experiments .............. 269

Vaclovas Lakis: Comparative analysis of internal auditing in Lithuania and Poland .................................................................................. 278

Olena I. Liashenko: Two-level aggregation of Leontief model “input-output” ....................................................................................... 287

Jonas Mackevičius, Vladislav Tomaševič: Specific features of cash flow formation and analysis in the process of evaluation of investment projects’ efficiency ........................................................................... 294

Albinas Marčinskas, Danuta Diskienė, Ona Barčkutė: Global challenges and manager’s competences ......................................................... 305

Krzysztof Markowski: Responsible lending and responsible borrowing – new challenges of Polish banks .................................................. 315

Katarzyna Miszczak: Modern determinants of regional development (on the example of Poland and Turkey) .................................................. 324

Krzysztof Natalli: Active labour market policy presented by Measure No. 1.2 “Perspectives for youth” undertook within Sectoral Operational Programme Human Resources Development 2004-2006 ........................................ 334
Marian Noga: Activity of the central bank in the conditions of disturbances on financial markets ................................................................. 345
Karolina Pawlak: The liberalisation of agricultural trade as part of the WTO vs the possibilities of development of the Polish foreign trade in agri-food products ............................................................ 353
Maria Piotrowska: Transfers and taxes as instruments of redistribution ...... 370
Walenty Poczta, Wawrzyniec Czubak: The effect of Poland’s integration with the EU on changes in the volume of production and agricultural income .................................................................................. 379
Aušra Rasteniene, Vincentas R. Giedraitis: Innovation in the Lithuanian economy: The impact of public attitudes in the media on job selection ... 389
Bogusława Skulska: The position of Poland in the flows of foreign direct investments within the European Union in XXI century ......................... 397
Tadeusz Sporek: Macroeconomic dimension of innovations – Selected instruments of stimulating innovative activity and transfer of technology 407
Magdalena Stawicka: Is there a relation between inflow of direct foreign investments and economic growth of European Union states? .............. 417
Małgorzata Swatek: Coherent social policy of the EU member states ........ 425
Maciej Szczepanik: Influence of a minimum wage on incomes of population and the amount of remuneration in free market economy ............. 432
Hanna Treder: European Union policy in relation to the sector of insurance – The consequences for the Polish market .................................................. 442
Robert W. Wlodarczyk: Diversity in employment structures in relation to economic growth in euro-zone countries ................................................. 452
Tomasz Wysocki: Efficiency of social policy in equalizing disposable income and its changes in time – A cross-national comparison ...................... 463
Anna Żąbkowicz: The institutional context of financialization .................. 475
Galyna Chornous, Maryna Grabilina: Ukrainian market of the commercial real estate in time of crisis [abstract] ...................................................... 484