

Annual Report on Reform
China Institute for Reform and Development

China's Reform in the Shadow of the Global Financial Crisis

Chief compiler Chi Fulin

FOREIGN LANGUAGES PRESS

Contents

Foreword

Chapter I

The Next Step in the Reform under the Dual Pressure of the Financial Crisis and Overall Transformation / 1

1. The International Financial Crisis Is Not Over, and China Faces Unprecedented Challenges in Its Reform and Development / 2
2. China Needs to Accelerate the Transformation of Its Economic Growth Pattern / 5
3. In Face of the Dual Pressure From the Financial Crisis and the Transformation of the Economic Growth Pattern, China Faces Conspicuous Structural Contradictions in Its Efforts for the Sustainable Development of Its Economy and Society / 13
4. The Chinese Government Needs to Advance a Package of Reforms and Provide an Institutional Guarantee for Economic Stimulus / 22

Chapter II

Promoting Stable Economic Growth with New Breakthroughs in Market-oriented Reform / 31

1. Accelerating Resources and Environmental Price Reform / 32
2. Promoting Reform in Monopoly Industries / 39
3. The Key to Expanding Social Investment Is to Further Break Down the System Barriers to the Private Economy / 44
4. Deepening Rural Reform Is the Key to Stimulating Rural Consumption / 53
5. Adopting a Proactive Fiscal Policy, and Accelerating Finance and Taxation System Reform / 59
6. Promoting Financial System Reform in Implementing a Moderately Easy Monetary Policy / 65

Chapter III

Economic Pressure Release through Social Reform / 73

1. Adopting Positive Social Policies to Avoid Bidirectional Influences and Mutual Enforcement / 74
2. Social Reforms to Support and Safeguard Consumption-driven Development / 81
3. Promoting the Process of Integration of Urban and Rural Areas by Making Equalization of Basic Public Service the Crux / 97
4. Facilitating Social System and Other Reforms by Creation of Diversified Interest Articulation Channels and Coordination of Interests between Various Groups / 107

Chapter IV

The International Financial Crisis and Proactive Opening-up Strategy / 119

1. Strengthening International Cooperation to Deal with Protectionism in International Trade / 121
2. Taking Part in the Rebuilding of the International Economic Order Proactively to Safeguard the National Interest / 134
3. Taking the Opportunity to Build a Complete Set of Strategies for Chinese Enterprises to Go Global / 140
4. Creating Favorable Situations to Boost RMB Internationalization / 154

Chapter V

Government Construction and Reform During the Crisis / 165

1. Increasing the Government's Ability to Cope with the Financial Crisis, with the Focus on Improving Its Leadership, Performance and Credibility / 166
2. With the Government Playing the Leading Role, Mobilizing the Enthusiasm of the Market and Society, and Forming a Combined Force to Alleviate the Crisis / 171
3. Helping to Promote Enthusiasm among Central and Local Governments, and Getting over Difficult Times / 179
4. Expediting the Government's Role Change and Creating Innovative Management / 184
5. Strengthening Self-building, and Establishing Efficient and Clean Government / 192

Conclusion: Road to Structural Reforms / 199