Austrian Economics in Transition

From Carl Menger to Friedrich Hayek

Edited by

Harald Hagemann

Tamotsu Nishizawa

and

Yukihiro Ikeda
Contents

List of Figures and Table
Introduction
List of Contributors

Part I Carl Menger: Towards a New Image of the Founder

1. Carl Menger's Liberalism Revisited
   Yukihiro Ikeda
   3

2. Carl Menger after 1871: Quest for the Reality of 'Economic Man'
   Kiichiro Yagi
   21

Part II Liberal Aspects of the Historical School: Max Weber

3. Discoursing Freedom: Weber's Project
   Jun Kobayashi
   41

4. Max Weber and the 'New Economics'
   Keith Tribe
   62

5. The German Historical School, Schumpeter and Ichiro Nakayama: Economic Theory and Economic Sociology
   Tamotsu Nishizawa
   89

Part III Some Methodological Problems

6. Friedrich von Wieser on Institutions and Social Economics
   Richard Arena
   109

7. From Menger to Polanyi: The Institutional Way
   Michele Cangiani
   138
Contents

Part IV Dissemination of the Austrian School of Economics

9  The Austrian School in the Interwar Period
Harald Hagemann
179

10  Ludwig von Mises's Business Cycle Theory: Static Tools for Dynamic Analysis
Arash Molavi Vasséi
196

11  Hayek on Practical Business Cycle Research: A Note
Hansjoerg Klausinger
218

12  Involvement of an Austrian Emigre Economist in America
Chikako Nakayama
235

Part V Transition of the Austrian School

13  On Menger, Hayek and on the Concept of 'Verstehen'
Kurt R. Leube
257

14  Hayek's Cognitive Psychology
Susumu Egashira
276

15  Hayek's Transformation of Market-Images in the 1930–40s
Makoto Nishibe
290

16  Carl Menger and the Later Austrian School of Economics: An Analysis of their Methodological Relationship
Tsutomu Hashimoto
310

Name Index

329

Subject Index

335