Table of Contents

List of Figures

List of Tables

Definitions

1 Introduction

1.1 Research Context

1.1.1 Corporate Strategy, Firm Boundaries, and Performance

1.1.2 Firm Boundary Determinants

1.1.3 Methodological Considerations

1.2 Research Focus and Motivation

1.3 Approach and Structure

2 Product- and Geographic Boundary Dynamics under Foreign Competition Pressure

2.1 Introduction

2.2 Background

2.2.1 Foreign Competition

2.2.2 Scope Changes

2.3 Theory and Hypotheses

2.3.1 Industry Characteristics and Foreign Competition Dynamics

2.3.2 The Awareness-Motivation-Capability Framework

2.3.3 Attack Characteristics in International Competition

2.3.4 Incumbent Response Implications

2.3.5 Abroad-Based Foreign Competition Attack and Incumbent Scope Change Response

2.3.6 Locally-Established Foreign Competition Attack and Incumbent Scope Change Response

2.4 Research Methodology

2.4.1 Methodological Context

2.4.2 Data and Sample

2.4.3 Dependent Variables: Firm Scope Change

2.4.4 Independent Variables: Foreign Competition Changes

2.4.5 Control Variables

2.4.6 Estimation Approach

2.5 Empirical Results

2.6 Discussion

2.6.1 Research Contribution

2.6.2 US versus German Context: Institutional Differences

2.6.3 Convergence Toward “Optimal” Scope Configurations

2.6.4 Limitations