AreResources a Curse?
Rentierism and Energy Policy in Post-Soviet States
Contents

Preface
Anja Franke/Andrea Gawrich/Jana Windwehr 7

Introduction
Anja Franke/Andrea Gawrich 11

Part I: Rentierism in a Superpower – the case of Russia

Russia’s Oil and Gas Policy
Christian Anders Nygaard 21

The Oil and Gas Industry and Regional Politics in Russia: Arranging the Distribution of Rents
Julia Kusznir 51

Part II: Between Europe and Asia – the Caspian Region

Autocratic Stability and Post-Soviet Rentierism – the Cases of Azerbaijan and Kazakhstan
Anja Franke/Andrea Gawrich 71

How to Spend Oil Windfalls in Kazakhstan: a CGE Analysis of Challenges and Options
Manfred Wiebelt 101

The Role of Stabilization and Savings Funds in the Sustainable Management of Natural Resource Revenues: Kazakhstan and Azerbaijan
Matthias Lücke/Till Seuring 121

Turkmenistan: Energy Sector Politics in a Post-Soviet Rentier State
Michael Denison 147
Part III: Implications on Transit Issues

Ukraine’s Energy Policy – Caught between Soviet Legacies, Russian Leverage and European Integration
Inna Melnykovska

Energy Transit in Central and Eastern Europe: Interpreting Polish Reactions to the Nord Stream Pipeline through a Spatial-Political Lens
Stefan Bouzarovski