Contents

Contributors xi

1 Introduction 1
   Anaclaudia G. Fassa, David L. Parker, and Thomas J. Scanlon

Part 1 Child labour profile

2 An overview of child labour statistics 7
   Charita L. Castro

Part 2 A model of child labour

3 A rights-oriented, public health model of child labour 37
   Anaclaudia G. Fassa, David L. Parker, and Thomas J. Scanlon

4 Public health in the economics of child labour 45
   Eric V. Edmonds

5 The child labour–education–health connection 55
   David Post

6 Social values and child labour 69
   Virginia Morrow and Jo Boyden

7 International law and child labour 79
   David Weissbrodt and Natalie W. Kohner

8 Children’s work and children’s rights 93
   Renata M. Coimbra Libório and Silvia H. Koller

9 Understanding the health effects of child labour 103
   David L. Parker, Anaclaudia G. Fassa, and Thomas J. Scanlon

Illustrative examples

9A Work-related injuries 123
   Anaclaudia G. Fassa

9B Pesticide exposure 137
   Ana Maria Osorio

9C Lead 151
   David L. Parker and Lisa Ide
Part 3 The global response to child labour and its impact: Case studies

10 Country-wide case studies: Brazil – A focus on conditional cash transfers 193
   Ana Lúcia Kassouf

11 Country-wide case studies: Kenya – A focus on ILO/IPEC and the Time Bound Programme 203
   Philista Onyango

12 Country-wide case studies: The Philippines – A focus on partnerships 213
   Amaryllis T. Torres

Illustrative case studies

12A A child labour monitoring programme: RugMark 223
    Nina Smith

12B Applying agricultural work guidelines from one country in another 229
    Barbara C. Lee

12C Traditional communities’ rights and child labour: Coco-babaçu workers in Brazil 243
    Noemi Miyasaka Porro and Anaclaudia G. Fassa

Part 4 Conclusions

13 Child labour and health: Changing the future 253
    Anaclaudia G. Fassa, David L. Parker, and Thomas J. Scanlon

Index 263