Proceedings of the Regional Workshop
Integrated Tourism Concepts to Contribute to Sustainable Development in Mountain Regions
Gilgit/Pakistan–Kashgar/P.R. China,
Oct 8–14, 2008

Edited by Hermann Kreutzmann, Ghulam Amin Beg,
Lu Zhaohui, Jürgen Richter

A 259443
Content

Preface ................................................................................................................................. 4
Abbreviations and Acronyms .............................................................................................. 6
Map: The Karakoram Highway – Pak-China Friendship Highway ....................................... 9

1 Introduction ...................................................................................................................... 10

1.1 Objectives and Structure of the Workshop .................................................................. 10
   Hermann Kreutzmann

1.2 The Karakoram Highway as a Prime Exchange Corridor between Pakistan and China ........................................................................................................... 13
   Hermann Kreutzmann

2 Conceptual and Regional Contributions on Tourism Strategies .................................... 37

2.1 Different Perceptions of Tourism – Participatory Approaches to Tourism: Experiences from Nepal ................................................................................................. 37
   Sunil Sharma

2.2 Strategic Approaches to Sustainable Tourism: Principles, Implementation Schemes and Cases ............................................................................................................. 58
   Johannes Heeb

2.3 Tourism Development Strategies for Northern Areas of Pakistan ......................... 78
   Yasir Hussain

2.4 Tourism Development in Mountain Areas of Xinjiang ........................................... 99
   Cao Zhixin, Lei Yankun

3 Case Studies on Best Practices in Tourism .................................................................... 108

3.1 Community-Based Tourism in Northern Areas of Pakistan – A Case Study of Conservation of Built Heritage ................................................................. 108
   Safiullah Baig

3.2 Best Practices of Silk Route Tourism in Xinjiang ..................................................... 115
   Li Yang
4 Summary and Analysis of Results of Working Groups with Respect to Tourism Potentials and Similarities and Differences between Northern Areas and Xinjiang ...................................................... 128
    Ghulam Amin Beg

5 Regional Cooperation and Economic Exchange Relations –
Xinjiang Case .............................................................................................. 135

5.1 Developing Ecotourism in Border Areas and Promoting Socio-economic Development in Mountain Areas.
The Case of Taxkorgan Tajik Autonomous County ...................................... 135
    Dilimaolati Yibulaying

5.2 Poverty Alleviation in Xinjiang's Mountain Areas ................................ 140
    Qu Hua

5.3 A Pearl on the Silk Route – Tourism in Kashgar .................................. 147
    Zhang Haimin

5.4 Ecotourism – Tourism Orientations of Nature Reserves in Xinjiang .................................................................................................. 154
    Du Nong

6 Experiences and Lessons Learnt from Cross-border Field Studies ........ 158
    Ghulam Amin Beg

7 Recommendations from Working Groups in the Field of Cross-border Cooperation .................................................... 171

8 Closing Remarks ....................................................................................... 174
    Hermann Kreutzmann

9 Annexes .................................................................................................... 176

9.1 Workshop Programme ........................................................................... 176

9.2 List of Participants ................................................................................ 182