THE OXFORD HANDBOOK OF

HUMAN CAPITAL

Edited by

ALAN BURTON-JONES

and

J.-C. SPENDER

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS
CONTENTS

| Acknowledgments                               | ix  |
| List of Figures                               | x   |
| List of Tables                                | xii |
| Foreword                                      | xiii|
| List of Contributors                         | xvii|

Introduction

ALAN BURTON-JONES AND J.-C. SPENDER

PART I: THE NATURE OF HUMAN CAPITAL

1. An Economic Perspective on the Notion of ‘Human Capital’
   Margaret M. Blair
   49

2. A Social Perspective: Exploring the Links between Human Capital and Social Capital
   Janine Nahapiet
   71

3. Global Culture Capital and Cosmopolitan Human Capital: The Effects of Global Mindset and Organizational Routines on Cultural Intelligence and International Experience
   Kok-Yee Ng, Mei Ling Tan, and Soon Ang
   96

4. Cognition and Human Capital: The Dynamic Interrelationship between Knowledge and Behavior
   Rhett A. Brymer, Michael A. Hitt, and Mario Schijven
   120

5. A Capital-Based Approach to the Firm: Reflections on the Nature and Scope of the Concept of Capital and its Extension to Intangibles
   Peter Lewin
   145
PART II: HUMAN CAPITAL AND THE FIRM

6. Human Capital and Transaction Cost Economics 165
   NICOLAI J. FOSS

7. Human Capital and Agency Theory 186
   J.-C. SPENDER

8. Human Capital in the Resource-Based View 218
   JEROEN Kraaijenbrink

   BRIAN J. LOASBY

10. The Firm, Human Capital, and Knowledge Creation 261
    GEORG von KROGH and MARTIN W. WALLIN

PART III: HUMAN CAPITAL AND ORGANIZATIONAL EFFECTIVENESS

11. Human Capital, HR Strategy, and Organizational Effectiveness 289
    PETER BOXALL

12. How Organizations Obtain the Human Capital they Need 309
    MONIKA Hamori, ROCIO Bonet, and PETER Cappelli

13. Aligning Human Capital with Organizational Needs 333
    DAVID P. LEPak, RIKI Takeuchi, and Juani SWArt

14. Maximizing Value from Human Capital 359
    RUSSELL COFF

15. Accounting for Human Capital and Organizational Effectiveness 382
    ROBIN KRAMAR, Vijaya Murthy, and James Guthrie
PART IV: HUMAN CAPITAL INTERDEPENDENCIES

16. Interdependencies between People in Organizations 403
   Robert M. Grant and James C. Hayton

17. Understanding Interdependencies between Human Capital and Structural Capital: Some Directions from Kantian Pragmatism 433
   David O'Donnell

18. The Distributed and Dynamic Dimensions of Human Capital 459
   Ikujiro Nonaka, Ryoko Toyama, and Vesa Peltokorpi

19. Human Capital and the Organization–Accommodation Relationship 477
   Jacqueline C. Vischer

20. Interdependencies between People and Information Systems in Organizations 499
   Alan Burton-Jones and Andrew Burton-Jones

PART V: HUMAN CAPITAL IN THE FUTURE ECONOMY

   David J. Teece

22. Looking to the Future: Bringing Organizations Deeper into Human Capital Theory 563
   Peter D. Sherer

   Seán Ó Riaín
24. Human Capital in Developing Countries:
The Significance of the Asian Experience 618
THOMAS CLARKE

25. The Future of Human Capital:
An Employment Relations Perspective 647
THOMAS A. KOCHAN AND ADAM SETH LITWIN

Index 671