
Science-Mart

Privatizing American Science

PHILIP MIROWSKI

Harvard University Press

Cambridge, Massachusetts, and London, England | 2011

Contents

1. Viridiana Jones and the Temple of Mammon;
Or, Adventures in Neoliberal Science Studies 1

I Why We Should Not Depend Upon the Existing Content of an “Economics of Science”

2. The “Economics of Science” as Repeat Offender 41

II A Modern Economic History of Science Organization

3. Regimes of American Science Organization 87
4. Lovin’ Intellectual Property and Livin’ with the MTA:
Retracting Research Tools 139
5. Pharma’s Market: New Horizons in Outsourcing in the Modern Globalized Regime 194

III Where We Are Headed

6. Has Science Been “Harmed” by the Modern
Commercial Regime? 259
7. The New Production of Ignorance: The Dirty Secret of the
New Knowledge Economy 315

Notes 351

Bibliography 391

Acknowledgments 449

Index 451