The Future of Leadership Development

Corporate Needs and the Role of Business Schools

Edited by

JORDI CANALS
Dean, IESE Business School, Spain
Contents

About the Authors vii

Introduction ix
   - by Jordi Canals

Part 1: The Deans' Perspective on Leadership Development and Business Schools

1.1 In Search of a Greater Impact: New Corporate and Societal Challenges for Business Schools 3
   - by Jordi Canals

1.2 Millennials and the Changing Landscape of Business Education 31
   - by J. Frank Brown

1.3 Collaborative Leadership: New Perspectives in Leadership Development 44
   - by Arnoud de Meyer

1.4 The Enduring Value of the MBA Degree 64
   - by Dipak C. Jain and Matt Golosinski

1.5 Business Schools and the Demands of Business Leadership 97
   - by Jay O. Light

1.6 The Contribution of Business Schools to the Twenty-first Century 109
   - by Pedro Nueno
Part 2: New Challenges in Leadership Development and Executive Education: The Scholars’ Perspective

2.1 From Action Theory to the Theory of the Firm by Antonio Argandoña

2.2 A Humanistic Approach to Organizations and Organizational Decision-making
   by Josep M. Rosanas

2.3 Bridging the Globalization Gap at Top Business Schools: Curricular Challenges and a Response
   by Pankaj Ghemawat

2.4 Leadership Development in Business Schools: An Agenda for Change
   by Jeffrey Pfeffer

Part 3: The CEOs’ Perspective: What Companies Expect from Leadership Development

3.1 How to Develop and Promote Leadership from the Top by Mireia Las Heras and Nuria Chinchilla

3.2 Managing Managers as Professionals: Leadership Development and Talent Transfer in a Global World
   by M. Julia Prats and Remei Agulles

Index