Contents

List of Figures x
List of Tables x

Part I. Introduction

1. Beyond Marienthal: Understanding Movements of the Unemployed
   MATT PERRY AND MATTHIAS REISS 3

2. Mobilizing the Unemployed: The Social Psychology of Movement Participation
   BERT KLANDERMAN 39

Part II. Movements of the Unemployed in Nineteenth-Century Britain

3. The March of the Blanketeers: Tragic Failure or Pioneer of Unemployed Protest?
   MARGRIT SCHULTE BEERBÜHL 59

4. From Poor Relief to Politics: The Protest of the British Unemployed in the 1870s and 1880s
   MATTHIAS REISS 75

Part III. The Golden Age of Unemployed Movements: The Inter-War Years

5. ‘Natural Love for a Good Thing’: The Struggle of the Unemployed Workers’ Movement for a Government Jobs Programme, 1931–1942
   JEANNETTE GABRIEL 111

6. Explaining Unemployed Protest in the Ruhr at the End of the Weimar Republic
   ALEX ZUKAS 137
7. Violating the 'Rules of Hospitality': The Protests of Jobless Immigrants in Depression-Era France 175
PHILIP H. SLABY

8. Politicization of Unemployment in British-Ruled Palestine 199
DAVID DE VRIES AND SHANI BAR-ON

Part IV. Beyond Collective Street Protest

9. Protesting Individuals: The French Unemployed in the 1930s 223
MICHAEL SEIDMAN

10. 'The Workers Are in the Mood to Fight the Act': Protest against the Means Test, 1931–1935 245
STEPHANIE WARD

11. Unemployment without Protest: The Ironstone Mining Communities of East Cleveland in the Inter-war Period 265
MALCOLM CHASE

Part V. Self-Representations of Movements of the Unemployed

MATT PERRY

ANTOINE CAPET

INGRID HAYES

Part VI. Recent Movements of the Unemployed

CYBÈLE LOCKE
CONTENTS

16. How Far beyond Marienthal? Unemployed Protest in Germany in the Internet Era
    Deborah Vietor-Engländer
    367

Part VII. Conclusion

17. The Mobilization of the Unemployed: A Recurrent but Relatively Invisible Phenomenon
    Didier Chabanet and Jean Faniel
    387

Notes on Contributors
    407

Index
    413