North Australian Political Economy: Issues and Agendas

edited by
Rolf Gerritsen

B 375911

Charles Darwin University Press
2010
North Australian Political Economy: Issues and Agendas

TABLE OF CONTENTS

List of Contributors iv

Introduction vii
   Rolf Gerritsen

Part 1: The Social, Economic and Political Nature of Northern Australia

1. The socio-economic features of northern Australia 1
   Silva Larson

2. A post-colonial model for north Australian political economy: the case of the Northern Territory 18
   Rolf Gerritsen

3. How policy development methods—together with inadequate statistics and flawed classifications—have done, and still do, distort policy implementation in northern Australia 41
   Dennis A. Griffith

4. Atypical labor markets require atypical policy solutions 55
   Riccardo Welters

5. The post-colonial state as an impediment to Aboriginal development: an Arnhem Land example 70
   Rolf Gerritsen

Part 2: Processes and Development

6. Living with work in a remote Aboriginal community 86
   Eva McRae-Williams

7. Bridging the asymmetric divide: background to, and strategies for, bridging the divide between Indigenous and non-Indigenous economies in northern Australia 106
   Natalie Stoeckl

8. Mining and Aboriginal economic development: expectations unfulfilled 130
   Owen Stanley

9. Conservation in the northern deserts: issues and agendas 142
   Christine Schlesinger & Rolf Gerritsen

10. The potential for a conservation economy in the tropical savannas based on
    'payments for environmental services' 162
    Romy Greiner