Political Economy of Human Rights
Rights, realities and realization

Bas de Gaay Fortman
Contents

List of figures and tables xviii
Preface xix
Acknowledgements xxi
List of abbreviations xxii

Introduction: rights, realities and realisation 1

Rights unrealised 1
A crisis in human rights 3
Political economy of human rights 5
Two genealogies of human rights 5
Two “golden” triangles of human dignity 8
An orchestration of upstream and downstream efforts 11
A new approach 14

1 Rights: the dialectics of power and protection 15

Power and its limits 15
The dialectics of law and power 19
Entitlement systems 23
Human rights as a laborious element in legal systems 32
Human rights strategies 35:
Human rights as a creative approach to law, power and morality 36

2 Rights: the dialectics of international norms and national practice 40

A contextual view on “transitional justice” 40
The international venture for the realisation of human rights 41
Human rights in the context of international relations 45
A critical appraisal 46
State sovereignty and the separation of powers 50
3 Global realities: conflict and confrontation

The United States and the United Nations 77
American exceptionalism 81
The "War on Terror" 85
The "sacred realm": domain of polemics and polarisation 87
American security concerns and the international legal order 91
United Nations reform 93
Concluding reflections 101

4 Local realities: strife and struggle

Gross human rights violations in an adverse environment 103
A "stylised" fact 107
State-society relations 112
Indicators 118
The impact of culture and religion 122

5 Realisation: the rights of the poor

Development with poverty 139
Productivism and the poor 143
Towards rights-based strategies 153
Implications for the international financial institutions 167
Economic justice 171

6 Realisation: the rights of collectivities

Of minorities and minarets 177
Democracy as majority rule 179
Minority rights: for what purpose? 180
The minority problematique in a political economy perspective 182
Protection of cultural freedoms and entitlements through cultural rights 186
The irony of collective equity 187
A misconception 191
"Minority" protection in a juridical/judicial perspective 194
"Minority" protection in an integrated human dignity perspective 195
Conclusion: the quest for realisation

Human rights as battleground 200
The struggle is deepened 202
The struggle is widened 206
The struggle is uplifted 207

Notes 210
Bibliography 226
Index 244