Global Ecology and Unequal Exchange
Fetishism in a zero-sum world

Alf Hornborg
Contents

List of tables x
Acknowledgements xi

Introduction 1

1 Zero-sum world: how to think about ecologically unequal exchange 6

2 Fetishism, dissociation, and the cultural analysis of capitalism 27

3 Historical political ecology: progress as environmental load displacement 45

4 Towards a truly global environmental history 63

5 The unequal exchange of time and space 83

6 Value, unequal exchange, and uneven development 102

7 Vital signs: how money transforms ecosystems 118

8 Possible moneys and impossible machines: to intervene in the logic of capitalism 139

Notes 161
References 165
Index 185