Capitalizing on the Demographic Transition

Tackling Noncommunicable Diseases in South Asia

Michael Maurice Engelgau, Sameh El-Saharty, Preeti Kudesia, Vikram Rajan, Sandra Rosenhouse, and Kyoko Okamoto
Contents

Preface xi
Acknowledgments xv
Abbreviations xvii

Overview 1
Introduction 1
What Is Happening and Its Implications 2
Why the Need to Act Now 5
How to Respond 8
Conclusion 11
Notes 11

PART I What Is Happening and Its Implications 13

Chapter 1 Regional Aging and Disease Burden 15
Regional Demographic and Epidemiologic Transitions 15
NCDs in South Asia 24
Economic Burden 31
Notes 36
References 37
Part I: Understanding the Disease Burden

Chapter 2: Country-Level Aging and Disease Burden
- Afghanistan
- Bangladesh
- Bhutan
- India
- Maldives
- Nepal
- Pakistan
- Sri Lanka
- Implications for South Asia
- Notes
- References

Part II: Why the Need to Act Now

Chapter 3: Rationale for Action
- Social and Political Perspective
- Economic and Development Perspective
- Health Sector Perspective
- References

Chapter 4: Opportunities for Prevention and Control
- Global and National Policy Context for NCDs
- What Can Governments Do?
- Prevention of NCDs
- Defining the Focus of NCD Interventions: Prevention versus Treatment
- Cost-Effectiveness Evidence on Prevention, Control, and Treatment of NCDs
- Notes
- References

Part III: How to Respond

Chapter 5: Developing a Policy Options Framework for Prevention and Control of NCDs
- Introducing the Policy Options Framework
- Common Challenges for Tackling NCDs
- Reference
Chapter 6
Country Capacity and Accomplishments and Application of the Policy Options Framework
- Afghanistan
- Bangladesh
- Bhutan
- India
- Maldives
- Nepal
- Pakistan
- Sri Lanka
- Notes
- References

95
97
98
99
100
101
103
103
105
106
106

Chapter 7
Regional Strategies for NCD Prevention and Control
- Guiding Principles for Regional Collaboration
- Strategies for NCD Risk Factors
- Strategies to Improve Health Systems
- Regional Institutional Capacity and Past Collaboration
- Conclusions
- Notes
- References

109
110
112
117
123
124
125
125

Appendix A
Country Capacity Assessments and Accomplishments
- Reference

129
131

Appendix B
Economic Rationale for Public Policy to Address NCDs
- Standard Efficiency-Based Rationales
- Nonstandard Economic Rationales: Behavioral Economics
- Conclusion
- Notes
- References

133
134
136
137
137
138
Contents

Appendix C  Disease Control Priorities in Developing Countries: Population-Based and Individualized Interventions for NCD Prevention and Control
References 141

Appendix D  Aligning Policy Options with Burden and Capacity
References 149

Appendix E  Capacity, Key Accomplishments, and Situational Analysis for NCDs
Afghanistan 159
Bangladesh 161
Bhutan 163
India 165
Maldives 167
Nepal 169
Pakistan 171
Sri Lanka 173
Note 175
References 175

Index 177

Boxes

1.1  Demographic and Epidemiologic Transitions 17
1.2  Methods to Describe the Health Situation in South Asia 25
2.1  The Social and Economic Impact of NCDs in the Russian Federation 54
4.1  Framework Convention on Tobacco Control 66
4.2  Construct for NCDs 69
5.1  The Private Sector and NCDs 92
A.1  Country Capacity 130
D.1  Mapping the Relationship Between Burden and Capacity 150

Figures

1.1  Age Structure in South Asia 16
1.2  Dependency Ratios in Developed and Developing Countries 18