Business for the 21st Century
Towards Simplicity and Trust

François Dupuy
Partner, Mesa Research, California

Translated by Rupert Swyer
Contents

Introduction 1

Part I  How Companies Lost their Grip (1): ‘Managerial Sloth’ and its Consequences

1  We Have Let Work ‘Slip’ 11

2  Silo Organizations and their Unwanted Side-Effects 40

3  We've Let the Customer Get Away 59

Part II  How Companies Lost their Grip (2): Front-line Managers Have Been Sacrificed on the Altar of Intermediate Bureaucracies

4  Sacrificing the Front-line Managers 79

5  Integration and Processes: A Marriage Made in Hell 100

6  Trust Destroyed, Trust Rebuilt 116

Part III  Can We Do Things Differently?

7  The Difficulty of Changing Endogenous Organizations 141

8  Simplicity, Trust and Communities of Interest: Can Things Be Done Differently? 166

Notes 193

Index 198