Global Justice and International Economic Law

Opportunities and Prospects

Edited by

CHIOS CARMODY
University of Western Ontario Faculty of Law

FRANK J. GARCIA
Boston College Law School

JOHN LINARELLI
Swansea University School of Law
Contents

Contributors .......................... page ix
Acknowledgments ....................... xi

Introduction.......................... 1
Chios Carmody, Frank J. Garcia, and John Linarelli

PART I. THEORIZING JUSTICE IN INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC INSTITUTIONS

1 Approaching Global Justice through Human Rights: Elements of Theory and Practice ........ 27
Carol C. Gould

Daniel Butt

3 Human Persons, Human Rights, and the Distributive Structure of Global Justice ............. 68
Robert C. Hockett

4 Global Economic Fairness: Internal Principles .............................................. 100
Aaron James

PART II. HOW JUSTICE GETS DONE IN INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC INSTITUTIONS

5 The Conventional Morality of Trade ......................................................... 129
Chin Leng Lim

6 The Political Geography of Distributive Justice ........................................... 153
Jeffrey L. Dunoff

7 The Death of Doha? Forensics of Democratic Governance, Distributive Justice, and Development in the WTO ....... 185
Chantal Thomas
PART III. CRITICAL RESPONSES TO CONTEMPORARY THEORIZING ABOUT JUSTICE AND INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC INSTITUTIONS

8 Global Justice and Trade .................................................. 217
   Fernando R. Tesón and Jonathan Klick

9 Jam Tomorrow: A Critique of International Economic Law ........ 261
   Barbara Stark

10 Doing Justice: The Economics and Politics of International Distributive Justice .................................................. 273
   Joel P. Trachtman

   Conclusion: An Agenda for Research and Action .................. 287
   Chios Carmody, Frank J. Garcia, and John Linarelli

Index .................................................................................. 297