THE GLOBAL ECONOMICS OF SPORT

Chris Gratton, Dongfeng Liu, Girish Ramchandani and Darryl Wilson
CONTENTS

List of figures viii
List of tables ix

1 The historical and economic development of the sport market 1
   Introduction 1
   Pre-industrial sport and recreation (pre-1800) 3
   Early industrial Britain (1800–1850) 3
   The re-emergence of mass leisure (1850–1914) 5

2 The global sport market 8
   The development of the global sport market 8
   The economics of sport 12

3 Global sports organisations 17
   Introduction 17
   Emergence of national sports organisations 17
   GSOs 19
   Theoretical issues 21
   From non-profit to commercialisation 26
   The economics of GSOs today 28
   Case study of the IOC 30
      Revival of the Modern Olympics 30
      Role and organisational structure of the IOC 31
      The economic transformation of the Olympics and changing role of the IOC 32
4 Global sports events 36
Introduction 36
The economic benefits of hosting major sports events 36
Legacy 39
The economic importance of the summer Olympic Games 40
Case study: legacy of Beijing 2008 42
Infrastructure 43
Knowledge, skill-development and education 45
Image 47
Emotion 48
Networks 48
Culture 49
Elite sport legacy 50
Conclusions 53

5 Global sport corporations 54
Introduction 54
Transnational corporations in a global competitive environment 55
Growth, concentration and internationalisation of sport corporations 56
Case studies in transnational sport corporations 58
Nike 58
Real Madrid FC 63
ESPN 65
Conclusions 68

6 Sport broadcasting 70
Introduction 70
Broadcast rights for sports properties 71
Theoretical issues 74
Broadcasting and the Olympics 75
The Football World Cup 79
Listed events 81
The English Premier League 83
Evidence of domestic appeal 83
UK television deals 85
International consumption 86
Conclusions 90

7 Sport sponsorship 92
Introduction 92
The growth of sport sponsorship 93
Reasons for sports sponsorship growth 94
Areas of sport sponsorship  97
FIFA and the Football World Cup  98
IOC and the Olympic Games  100
Why do corporations sponsor sport?  101
Measuring the effectiveness of sponsorship  103
Conclusions  106

8 Globalisation of the sport market: costs and benefits  108
Introduction  108
Negative economic consequences of the globalisation of sport  109
  International division of labour  109
  Migration of athletes  110
  Global sport–media nexus  111
Conclusions  112

Bibliography  114
Index  123