The Economics of Beer

Edited by

Johan F. M. Swinnen

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS
Contents

List of Figures xiii
List of Tables xvi
List of Contributors xviii
Units of Measurement xxii

Part I: History
1. A Brief Economic History of Beer 3
   Eline Poelmans and Johan F. M. Swinnen
2. Beer Production, Profits, and Public Authorities in the Renaissance 29
   Richard W. Unger
3. Standards and International Trade Integration: A Historical Review of the German ‘Reinheitsgebot’ 51
   Frank van Tongeren
   John V. C. Nye
5. Belgian Beers: Where History Meets Globalization 79
   Damiaan Persyn, Johan F. M. Swinnen, and Stijn Vanormelingen

Part II: Consumption
   Donald G. Freeman
   Liesbeth Colen and Johan F. M. Swinnen
8. Recent Economic Developments in the Import and Craft Segments of the US Brewing Industry 141
   Carol Horton Tremblay and Victor J. Tremblay
Contents

9. Culture and Beer Preferences
   Jill J. McCluskey and Sanatan Shreay

Part III: Industrial Organization

10. Competition Policy towards Brewing: Rational Response to Market Power or Unwarranted Interference in Efficient Markets?
    Margaret E. Slade

    Kenneth G. Elzinga and Anthony W. Swisher

12. The Growth of Television and the Decline of Local Beer
    Lisa M. George

    William James Adams

14. How the East was Won: The Foreign Takeover of the Eastern European Brewing Industry
    Johan F. M. Swinnen and Kristine Van Herck

Part IV: The New Beer Markets

    Junfei Bai, Jikun Huang, Scott Rozelle, and Matt Boswell

16. From Vodka to Baltika: A Perfect Storm in the Russian Beer Market
    Koen Deconinck and Johan F. M. Swinnen

17. Opening the Beer Gates: How Liberalization Caused Growth in India’s Beer Market
    Abhimanyu Arora, Anjor Bhaskar, Bart Minten, and Anneleen Vandeplas

Part V: Conclusion

18. Beeronomics: The Economics of Beer and Brewing
    Johan F. M. Swinnen and Thijs Vandemoortele

Index

357