Financial Development in Latin America and the Caribbean

The Road Ahead

By a team led by Augusto de la Torre, Alain Ize, and Sergio L. Schmukler
Contents

Foreword ....................................................... xi

Acknowledgments ........................................... xiii

Abbreviations ................................................ xv

1 Overview .......................................................... 1
   The conventional view on financial development and its limitations .............. 2
   Revisiting financial development ............................................................... 4
   Where is LAC? ................................................................. 5
   Promoting the bright side ................................................................. 7
   Dealing with the dark side ................................................................. 8
   Notes ............................................................. 12

2 Financial Development: Bright Side, Patterns, Paths, and Dark Side ............ 15
   The bright side ............................................................. 16
   The patterns ............................................................. 19
   The paths ............................................................. 22
   The dark side ............................................................. 24
   Can there be too much finance? ........................................................... 25
   Notes ............................................................. 26

3 Domestic Financial Development: Where Does LAC Stand? ......................... 29
   Methodology ............................................................. 30
   Main findings ............................................................. 31
   Banking ............................................................. 32
   Bond markets ............................................................. 32
   Equity markets ............................................................. 35
   The new players ............................................................. 39
Annex 10.A Methodology for the econometric analysis of BCP Ratings .......................... 171
Annex 10.C Joint World Bank–ASBA survey on systemic oversight ..................................................... 175
Annex 10.D Financial concentration in LAC .................................................................................. 176
Notes ......................................................................................................................................... 178

11 Macropredural Policies over the Cycle in LAC ........................................................................ 181
Macropredural policy and the dynamics of the dark side ................................................................. 182
LAC's cycles and vulnerabilities: Lessons from the past? .............................................................. 184
Some key macroprudential policy design issues .......................................................................... 192
The path ahead ...................................................................................................................... 196
Notes ......................................................................................................................................... 199

12 Microsystemic Regulation ........................................................................................................ 203
The rationale for prudential regulation ..................................................................................... 204
The outer boundaries: Illuminating the shadows ...................................................................... 205
The inner boundaries: Silos versus universal licensing ............................................................. 209
The SIFI problem .................................................................................................................... 211
Systemic liquidity: Norms and access ....................................................................................... 213
Financial innovation: Did LAC have it right? ........................................................................... 214
The regulatory agenda ahead .................................................................................................... 215
Annex 12.A Challenges posed by large, complex financial conglomerates:
The case of CL Financial in the Caribbean .............................................................................. 216
Notes ......................................................................................................................................... 218

13 Systemic Supervision ............................................................................................................ 221
The new connections ................................................................................................................ 222
A new approach ....................................................................................................................... 223
New tools ................................................................................................................................ 225
Getting there ............................................................................................................................ 226
The agenda ahead ...................................................................................................................... 229
Notes ......................................................................................................................................... 230

14 Summary of Policy Directions for the Road Ahead ................................................................ 233
Where is LAC? .......................................................................................................................... 233
The tough issues to think about .................................................................................................. 235
Policy directions: The bright side ............................................................................................... 236
Policy directions: The dark side .................................................................................................. 239

References ................................................................................................................................. 243

Boxes

3.1 The bond market in Chile ........................................................................................................ 41
3.2 The equity market in Brazil .................................................................................................... 50
4.1 Costs and benefits of the participation of foreign banks in domestic financial systems ............ 73
6.1 A brief history of housing finance in LAC ............................................................................ 99
7.1 Corporate governance and equity market development ......................................................... 115
8.1 Covered bonds versus mortgage-backed securities: LAC's recent experience .................... 131
8.2 LAC's indexation experiences in housing finance ................................................................. 133
9.1 Welfare criteria in the theoretical literature on state guarantees ........................................... 142
12.1 The Mexican Sofoles .................................................. 206
12.2 Reforming the regulatory perimeter: United States versus the European Union. .... 207

Figures

2.1 Frictions, paradigms, and failures .................................. 17
2.2 Appearance, convexity, and returns to scale of FD indicator paths .................... 20
2.3 Paths for government debt: External and domestic ..................................... 21
2.4 Banking indicators' paths: Retail and wholesale funding and private credit .......... 21
2.5 Financial depth indicators: Dynamic and cross-section development paths .......... 23
3.1 Domestic financial systems ............................................. 31
3.2 Banking indicators relative to global benchmarks ...................................... 33
3.3 Bank credit ............................................................. 35
3.4 Foreign ownership and concentration of banking systems ............................ 36
3.5 Total banking assets as a percentage of GDP, within LAC ............................... 37
3.6 LAC-7 financial indicators against benchmark ........................................ 38
3.7 Primary bond markets .................................................... 39
3.8 Domestic bond market turnover .......................................... 40
3.9 Average maturity of bonds at issuance in local markets ............................... 42
3.10 Currency composition of bonds at issuance in local markets ......................... 43
3.11 Equity market size ....................................................... 44
3.12 Equity markets ......................................................... 45
3.13 Stock market turnover relative to global benchmarks ................................ 46
3.14 Concentration in equity markets ....................................... 47
3.15 Within LAC: Trading activity and number of listed firms in domestic equity markets 48
3.16 Equity market capitalization as a percentage of GDP, within LAC .................... 49
3.17 Pension fund, mutual fund, and insurance company assets ......................... 51
3.18 Composition of pension fund portfolios ..................................... 52
3.19 Mutual fund portfolio holdings ........................................ 53
3.20 Derivative and factoring markets ....................................... 54
3.21 Financial cooperatives, credit unions, and exchange-traded funds .................. 55
4.1 Foreign assets and liabilities and gross capital flows ................................... 61
4.2 Within LAC: Foreign assets and liabilities and gross capital flows .................. 62
4.3 Valuation effects ........................................................ 63
4.4 De jure and de facto financial globalization measures ................................... 64
4.5 Net foreign assets as percentage of GDP: Equity and bonds ......................... 66
4.6 Within LAC: Net foreign assets as percentage of GDP: Equity and bonds ......... 67
4.7 New capital-raising issues in foreign markets ........................................... 68
4.8 Relative size of foreign capital markets .......................................... 69
4.9 Average maturity of bonds at issuance ......................................... 70
4.10 Within LAC: Average maturity of public and private bonds in foreign markets at issuance ......................................................... 71
4.11 Ratio of foreign currency bonds to total bonds at issuance ............................. 72
4.12 Equity trading in domestic and foreign markets ...................................... 73
4.13 Concentration in foreign bond and equity markets ..................................... 74
4.14 Foreign-owned bank assets as a percentage of total banks assets ................... 75
5.1 Number of branches, ATMs, and deposits and loan accounts .......................... 79
5.2 Actual versus predicted number of deposits per 1,000 adults .......................... 82
5.3 Actual versus predicted number of loans per 1,000 adults ............................ 82
5.4 Annual fees .................................................................. 83
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>3.2 Benchmark model for LAC's financial development indicators</td>
<td>34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.1 Regressions of indicators of financial inclusion on income,</td>
<td>81</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>population density, and country-group dummies</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.2 Regressions for deposit and loan fees</td>
<td>84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.1 LAC-7 credit gap by type of credit, 1996 and 2007</td>
<td>96</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.2 Real lending rates by type of firm, 2007</td>
<td>97</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.3 LAC bank net interest margins, bank overheads, and private credit</td>
<td>101</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.4 LAC-7 private credit gap: A decomposition by source</td>
<td>102</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.5 Number of crises by type, 1970-2007</td>
<td>103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.6 LAC banks' interest margins, financial soundness, enabling</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>environment indicators, and credit history—growth and crashes</td>
<td>105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.7 LAC private credit, financial dollarization, and inflation, 2005-08</td>
<td>105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7.1 Benchmarking model</td>
<td>111</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7.2 Domestic equity turnover and enabling environment indicators</td>
<td>117</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8.1 Mutual fund fees in selected Latin American countries</td>
<td>127</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8.2 Share of deposits in portfolios of Chilean mutual funds</td>
<td>128</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9.1 Development banks in Latin America and the Caribbean: Operative</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>modality of development banks at the beginning of 2009</td>
<td>150</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.1 Econometric analysis of BCP ratings</td>
<td>161</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.2 Capital adequacy requirements for selected LAC-6 countries</td>
<td>166</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.A.1 BCP consolidation into groups</td>
<td>171</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.B.1 World Bank survey of supervisory practices</td>
<td>173</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.D.1 Market share of largest companies and funds in selected LAC</td>
<td>176</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>countries</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.D.2 Ownership concentration in selected Latin American countries</td>
<td>177</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11.1 Main features of real and financial cycles</td>
<td>186</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11.2 Size of financial booms and the probability of crisis: Probit</td>
<td>192</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>analysis</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>