The Dynamics of Regional Innovation
Policy Challenges in Europe and Japan

Editors
Yveline Lecler
University of Lyon, France

Tetsuo Yoshimoto
Ritsumeikan University, Japan

Takahiro Fujimoto
University of Tokyo, Japan
CONTENTS

Foreword v
Contributors xi

General Introduction 1
Takahiro Fujimoto and Yveline Lecler

Chapter 1: Science and Technology Policy in Japan 25
Hiroshi Nagano

Chapter 2: Innovation policies and reforms in Japan 41
Tomohiro Ijichi

Chapter 3: The European innovation strategy and competitiveness clusters 73
Henri Capron

Chapter 4: How to draw endogenous power to the regions? 103
A review of innovation policies in the Tohoku Region
Michi Fukushima

Chapter 5: Competitiveness Clusters and the Positioning of Rhône-Alpes and Wallonia 125
Henri Capron and Pierre-Jean Bailleot
Part 2: Intellectual Property and Technology Transfer: A New Challenge for Universities

Chapter 6: The legal framework of intellectual property rights in comparative law: Japan–France
   Béatrice Jaluzot

Chapter 7: The European patent system: 50 years of missed opportunities
   Jérôme Danguy, Malwina Mejer and Bruno Van Pottelsberghe De La Potterie

Chapter 8: What we know on prolific inventors: Evidence from a five countries United States patenting data set (1975–2002)
   Christian Le Bas

Chapter 9: University patent portfolios in Japan: The impact of IP measures and national university incorporation on the university–industry technology transfer process
   Daisuke Kanama and Kumi Okuwada

Chapter 10: Technology licensing from university to industry in Japan
   Toshiya Watanabe

Chapter 11: Role of the universities towards the big and small enterprises: The Walloon case
   Michel Morant and Joseph A. Martial

Part 3: Open Innovation and the New Challenge for Firms

Chapter 12: Entrepreneurship education: A still uncertain road in Japan and Europe
   Philippe Debroux
Chapter 13: Promoting firms’ creation and incubation: Past and present policy achievements in France and in Japan
Yveline Lecler

Chapter 14: Venture capital and angels in Japan: Comparison with experiences in France
Mahito Uchida

Chapter 15: Corporate venturing in Japan: New win-win movement of big-corporation–startup-collaboration
Noboru Maeda

Chapter 16: Licensing strategy of Japanese Firms
Koji Nakano and Nobuo Takahashi

Chapter 17: Sharing manufacturing knowledge among Industries: A challenge for the Instructor School at University of Tokyo
Takahiro Fujimoto and Tetsuo Yoshimoto

Part 4: Toward Open Innovation: Some Evidence from Empirical Studies

Chapter 18: Case 1 — Research valorization and networking: The Walloon case
Véronique Cabiaux

Chapter 19: Case 2 — The new role of universities: The Walloon Interdisciplinary Cluster of Applied Genoproteomics (GIGA)
Joseph A. Martial and Michel Morant

Chapter 20: Case 3 — CREALYS West Rhone-Alps incubator: A French public incubator
Nadia Kamal
Chapter 21: Case 4 — The new business support activities by the Tohoku Economic Federation: For changing the global competitive environments
Eisaku Nishiyama

Chapter 22: Case 5 — Encouraging producers of interindustry collaboration among Small and Medium Enterprises in the Tohoku Region of Japan
Seiichi Ohtaki and Nghia-Chi Nguyen

Index