Globalizing Central Asia
Geopolitics and the Challenges of Economic Development

Marlene Laruelle and Sebastien Peyrouse

M.E. Sharpe
Armonk, New York
London, England
Contents

List of Maps, Figures, and Tables \hspace{1.5cm} ix

Introduction \hspace{1.5cm} xiii

Part I. “Great Games” and “Small Games”: The Strategies and Outcomes of External Actors \hspace{1.5cm} 3

1. Russia in Central Asia: Old Patterns, New Challenges \hspace{1.5cm} 9
   - The Ebb and Flow of Russian Influence in Central Asia \hspace{1.5cm} 10
   - Russia’s Obsession with Security on Its Southern Borders \hspace{1.5cm} 14
   - Russia’s Economic Involvement: Hydrocarbons and Integrated Space \hspace{1.5cm} 17
   - Prospects for Russia’s Long-Term Success in Central Asia \hspace{1.5cm} 19

2. China: The Newcomer That Made a Difference \hspace{1.5cm} 27
   - Central Asia on the Chinese Global Radar \hspace{1.5cm} 27
   - Settled Border Disputes, but Contentious Issues Remain \hspace{1.5cm} 29
   - China’s Building of Strategic and Political Legitimacy \hspace{1.5cm} 32
   - Chinese Inroads in Central Asia: Trade and Investments \hspace{1.5cm} 34

3. The United States: The Too Distant, but Unavoidable Partner \hspace{1.5cm} 43
   - Shifting US Agendas Toward Central Asia \hspace{1.5cm} 44
   - Security as the Main Driver of US Involvement \hspace{1.5cm} 47
   - Multilateral and Bilateral Strategic Cooperation \hspace{1.5cm} 50
   - The Economic Rationales of US Involvement \hspace{1.5cm} 52

4. The European Union: Soft Power or Realpolitik? \hspace{1.5cm} 58
   - A Double Challenge: Elaborating Strategies, Delivering Messages \hspace{1.5cm} 58
   - A Growing Focus on Security Matters \hspace{1.5cm} 62
   - Bureaucratic Complexities and Limited Effectiveness \hspace{1.5cm} 63
   - Fostering European Commitment Through the Economy? \hspace{1.5cm} 65
   - Member States as the Bearers of Europe’s Business Image \hspace{1.5cm} 68
5. Middle Eastern and Gulf Countries Seeking a Role in Central Asia
   Turkey: From Cultural Strategy to Trade Pragmatism
   Iran: A Promising Partnership Hampered by Geopolitical Issues
   Alternative Partners: The Gulf Emirates and Israel

6. Central Asia Looking East: The Search for Asian Dynamism
   India’s Involvement: Hopes and Disillusionment
   Pakistan: Dashed Hope, Political Suspicion
   Japan’s Policy in Central Asia: From Idealism to Realism
   South Korea: A Discreet but Growing Presence
   The Malaysian Model Emulated in Central Asia

7. The Regional Market: Economic Weaknesses and Political Blockades
   Preserving CIS Links: Ukraine, Belarus, and Central Asia
   A Failed Caspian Unity? Central Asia and the South Caucasus
   Growing Connectivity: Central Asian Businesses in Afghanistan
   Central Asian Cooperation: Interstate Failure, Bazaar Economies
   Uzbek-Kazakh Competition for Regional Leadership

Part II. Facing Globalization: Strengths and Weaknesses of Central Asia’s Economies

8. The Weight of the Soil: The Agriculture Sector
   Structural Trends in the Agricultural Sector
   Cotton or Food Self-Sufficiency: A False Dilemma?
   The Mixed Results of Land Reforms
   Political and Social Stakes in the Agrarian Sector

9. Hydrocarbons: At the Core of Central Asia’s International Strategies
   Reserves and National Companies’ Strategies
   Existing Distribution Routes
   Energy Geopolitics: Are the Great Powers Dominating the Game?
   Hedging Geopolitics? Transformation Industries and New Technologies

    Kazakhstan’s Mineral Eldorado and Its Oligarchs
    Rare Earth Metals: Will Kyrgyzstan and Kazakhstan Compete with China?
    Central Asia’s Gold Riches
    Uranium: Resources, Extraction, and Transformation Factories
    International Partners and Central Asian Uranium: A Shift Toward Asia?
11. A Driver of Development: The Electricity Sector
   - Wavering Central Asian Cooperation 218
   - A Difficult Balance Between Production and Consumption 221
   - Management Bodies, Transmission Networks, and Export Strategies 224
   - The Challenges of Developing Hydroelectricity 229
   - Does Central Asia Have a Geopolitics of Electricity? 234

12. Landlocked: The Transport Challenge
   - State of the Road, Rail, and Air Networks 242
   - The International Community’s Focus on Transcontinental Transport Corridors 250
   - Beyond Geopolitical Grand Narratives: The Reality of Transport 254

13. A Structurally Weakened Industrial Base
   - The Soviet Legacy: The Chemical and Pharmaceutical Industries 264
   - The Revival of the Military-Industrial Complex 267
   - One of the Last Mechanical Industries: The Uzbek Automobile Sector 269
   - Is the Potential of the Textile Industry Still Unexploited? 270
   - The Construction Market Boom: Changes in Political Architecture and Real Estate 273
   - Sectors of the Future: Agribusiness and Distribution 277

14. The Future of the Services Sector
   - Building the Banking System from Scratch 286
   - Kazakhstan’s Success Story: Central Asia’s Rising Financial Center 289
   - A Booming Mobile Telecommunications Market 293
   - Kazakhstan and New Technologies 296
   - The Potential for Tourism 298

Conclusion 306
Bibliography 313
Index 333
About the Authors 355