Corporate Governance

T.N. SATHEESH KUMAR
Consultant
Formerly faculty, ICFAI Business School, Kochi

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS
PART I  CORPORATIONS AND THEIR GOVERNANCE

1. Governance on the Move 3
   Opening Case: Where Were the Board and Its Independent Directors? 3
   A Brief History of Corporate Governance 4
   Managing versus Governing 5
   Corporate Governance Defined 6
   Corporate Governance in the Current Era 7
   Corporate Form—Boon or Bane? 8
   Directors' Role 9
   Regulator's Role 9
   Conclusion 10
   Closing Case: Satyam Computer Services Ltd 11

2. Capitalism, Modern Corporation, and Governance 17
   Opening Case: Dominant Shareholder in Management Aided by Rubber Stamp Board? 17
   Modern Corporation and Capitalism 19
   Boards and Their Fiduciary Duties 26
   Theories of Corporate Governance 32
   Does Governance Matter? 38
   Corporate Governance Models 43
   Ownership and Governance 47
   Roles of Board and Management—Clarity Needed 60
   Closing Case: Failure of Enron—The Culmination of Irrational Exuberance and Unfettered Greed 65

3. Evolution of Corporate Governance—Practices and Regulations 74
   Opening Case: Best Practices Are Only on Paper 74
   The Need Was Felt 76
   How the Corporate Concept Evolved 79
   Role of the Government 81
   Whistle-blowing Mechanism 83
   Good Corporate Governance—Is It Worth the While? 85
   Cadbury Committee Report 86
   Combined Code 1998 88
   OECD Principles of Corporate Governance 89
   Global Reporting Initiative 91
   International Corporate Governance Network 93
   European Union Approach to Corporate Governance 94
   Sarbanes–Oxley Act 2002 94
PART II  BOARDS AND GOVERNANCE

4. Structure of the Board—
   Directors, Types of Boards, and Committees  155

   Opening Case: Should Directors’ Age Be Investors’ Concern?  155
   Boards and Governance  156
   Board Organization  157
   Types of Directors  171
   Need for Independence  172
   Improving Administration of Governance through Committees  180
   Director Independence—Need Is for Independent Mindset  183
   Closing Case: Board Structure—Professional vs Family Firms  186

5. The Board Development
   Process—Selection,
   Development, Compensation,
   and Performance Review  196

   Opening Case: Determinants of Executive
   Pay  197
   Making Boards a Formidable Force  198
   Director Development and Succession
   Planning  213
   CEO Compensation  225
   Components of CEO Compensation  239

   Compensation of Other Directors  250
   Role of Compensation Committee  255
   Board Development—The Way
   Ahead  257
   Closing Case: Pay for Performance or Pay without Performance  261

6. Boards and Leadership  264

   Opening Case: De-risking Strategy of Ramalinga Raju  264
   Stakeholders Demand Performance  265
   Best Practices  267
   Board’s Strategic Role  273
   Strategy as Stretch and Leverage  297
   Surveillance Role of the Board  300
   The Board as a Learning
   Organization  304
   Empowered Boards  304
   Governance as a Culture—The Need for Strategic Intention  308
   Leveraging Good Governance for Competitive Advantage  309
   Ethics, Values, and Being a Good Corporate Citizen  310
   Closing Case: Strategic Pursuits of Family-
   Managed Companies—Bajaj Auto
   Ltd vs Reliance Industries Ltd  315
7. Governance Problems Related to Typical Ownership Patterns 323

Opening Case: Too Much Family on the Board—Comparison of Two Family-Managed Companies 323

Governance and Typical Ownership Patterns 325

Most Commonly Observed Ownership Patterns 329

Institutional Investors and Developed Market Conundrum in Corporate Governance 351

Problems of Governance in Companies Where Government Has a Stake Varying from Minority to Dominant 356

Difficulties Encountered in Governance 358

Theoretical Framework for Governance in PSUs 360

Conflicts of Interest 365

Conflicts of Interest in PSUs 369

Other Conflicts of Interest in General 370

Remedial Actions 370

Does Size of the Board Matter in Governance? 371

Closing Case: Should RIL Board Sack the CEO or Shareholders Express No Confidence in the Board? 377

8. Governance, Capital Market Institutions, and Government 379

Opening Case: Can Auditors Act Independently? 379

Governance—The Role of Capital Market Institutions and Government 381

The Developed Market Argument 386

Capital Market Institutions 390

Banks 399

Stock Exchanges 403

Can Institutions Play a More Meaningful Role? 403

Regulators and Their Roles 405

Government’s Role in Corporate Governance—The Company Law Provisions 411

Implications of Company Being a Separate Legal Entity 412

Deficiencies and Loopholes in the Laws 428

Governance Ratings—Merits and Demerits 429

Information Is the Key—Cooperate and Collaborate for Information 434

Mature Market for Corporate Control—435

Closing Case: Gatekeeper Integrity Becomes Questionable 439

9. Directors in Action—Ground Rules for Performing Multitudes of Roles and Duties 441

Opening Case: How Many Directorships 441

Ground Rules for Performing Multitudes of Roles and Duties 443

Applicable to All Directors 444

The Non-executive Director 447

The Non-executive Independent Director 448

As the Chair of the Board 455

Director as Institutional Nominee 456

The Executive Director 457

As Managing Director or CEO 458

Closing Case: The Clause 49 Millionaires—Boardroom Becomes Financially Rewarding 461
PART IV  THE ROAD AHEAD—THE FUTURE OF GOVERNANCE

10. Where Do We Go from Here?  467

Opening Case: Evidence of Rigour in Board and Committee Meetings  467
Governance So Far  469
Governance Practices for the Twenty-first Century  469
Innovative Practices for the Future  475
Can Political Approach Be Better?  480

APPENDICES

Appendix A: GRI Compliance Report of Jubilant Organosys Ltd  497
Appendix B: EU Approach to Corporate Governance  507

Appendix C: K.M. Birla Committee Report on Corporate Governance  521
Appendix D: Narayana Murthy Committee Report on Corporate Governance  541

Index  564