Democracy and Capabilities for Voice

Welfare, Work and Public Deliberation in Europe
Contents

Preface ................................................................................................................................. 9

INTRODUCTION
A New Perspective on Welfare Policies.
Why and How the Capability for Voice Matters ..................................................... 11
   Ota De Leonardis and Serafino Negrelli

PART I. BETWEEN INDIVIDUAL AND COLLECTIVE CAPABILITIES

Hard Cases. In Search of Capability for Voice in Job Insertion Policies .................... 37
   Ota De Leonardis

Local Agencies as Institutional Conversion Factors of Resources into Capabilities .................................................. 61
   Jean-Michel Bonvin and Emilie Rosenstein

Having a Voice and Participating in a Company ................................................. 79
   Bénédicte Zimmermann

A Case Study in the Service Sector ................................................................. 101
   Isabelle Ferreras

PART II. SITUATED CAPABILITY FOR VOICE:
DIFFERENT INSTITUTIONAL TOOLS AND PROCESSES

Capability for Voice and the Deficit in the EU Democracy .......................... 119
   Serafino Negrelli

Judgements in Justice and Labour Market Reactivation.
A Swedish Historical Case Study ................................................................. 141
   Steven Gascoigne

German Social Partnership in Crisis.
Proof of Value or Crisis of Social Partnership ............................................. 157
   Jurgen Kädtler
   Simon Deakin and Aristea Koukiadaki

Monetary Resources, a Core Issue for Capabilities. The Example of Retirement Pensions .................................................. 205
   Bernard Friot

CONCLUSIONS
Labour and the Politics of Freedoms .................................................. 227
   Robert Salais

Notes on Contributors ........................................................................ 245