

China and the EU

Concord or Conflict?

Edited by Jan van der Harst and Pieter C. M. Swieringa

Contents

Notes on Contributors	v
Acknowledgements	viii
List of Abbreviations	ix
Introduction	1
Jan van der Harst &amp; Pieter Swieringa
PART I INSTITUTIONS	11
1 Frauke S. Austermann: Towards a ‘Unitary Actor?’ Perceptions of China’s Role in Africa Across EU Institutions	13
2 Frank Gaenssmantel: The EU and Foreign Policy Initiatives from China: Missed Opportunities for an Aspiring International Actor?	36
PART II GEOPOLITICS	67
3 David Kerr: Problems of Grand Strategy in EU-China Relations	69
4 Rien T. Segers: China, Japan and the New East Asia – Towards a Change in World Hegemony	89
5 Wolfgang Deckers: EU, China and US: Who Will Benefit from the Triangular Relationship?	105
PART III ECONOMIC ISSUES	127
6 Rafael Leal-Arcas: European Union-China Trade Relations: Difficulties, Possible Solutions, and the Way Forward	129
7 Gerda C. van Roozendaal and Herman W. Hoen: How China’s Investment Regime Changed: An Institutional Approach	146
PART IV CASE STUDIES	167
8 Chun Ding: China’s Health Care System and its Reform: European Experiences and their Instructiveness for China	169
9 Sjoerd J.J. Both: China-EU Maritime and Naval Security Issues and Developments	193
Index	213