Financial Elites and Transnational Business

Who Rules the World?

Edited by
Georgina Murray
Associate Professor, Griffith University, Australia

John Scott
Professor of Sociology and Pro Vice-Chancellor (Research), University of Plymouth, UK

Edward Elgar
Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA
Contents

List of contributors vi
Acknowledgements x

1 Capital mobilization, transnational structures, and capitalist classes 1
   John Scott
2 The financialization of global corporate ownership 26
   David Peetz and Georgina Murray
3 Capital relations and directorate interlocking: the global network in 2007 54
   William K. Carroll
4 The transnational capitalist class and tax havens 76
   Anthony van Fossen
5 The Business Roundtable and the transnational capitalist class 100
   Clifford L. Staples
6 Transnational business networks in the Eurozone: a focus on four major stock exchange indices 124
   François-Xavier Dudouet, Éric Grémont and Antoine Vion
7 The transnational class in Mexico: new and old mechanisms structuring corporate networks (1981–2010) 146
   Alejandra Salas-Porras
8 National and transnational structuring of the British corporate elite 177
   Bruce Cronin
9 Australia’s ruling class: a local elite, a transnational capitalist class or bits of both? 193
   Georgina Murray
10 Outward bound: transnational capitalism in China 220
   Jerry Harris
11 Corporate futures and the consequences from the top end of town 242
   Georgina Murray

Index 261