management
A PRACTICAL INTRODUCTION
sixth edition

Angelo Kinicki
Arizona State University

Brian K. Williams part I
Introduction
Chapter One
The Exceptional Manager: What You Do, How You Do It 2

1.1 Management: What It Is, What Its Benefits Are 4
   Key to Career Growth: "Doing Things I’ve Never Done Before" 4
   The Art of Management Defined 4
   Why Organizations Value Managers: The Multiplier Effect 6
   The Financial Rewards of Being an Exceptional Manager 6
   What Are the Rewards of Studying & Practicing Management? 7

1.2 Seven Challenges to Being an Exceptional Manager 9
   Challenge #1: Managing for Competitive Advantage—Staying Ahead of Rivals 9
   Challenge #2: Managing for Diversity—The Future Won’t Resemble the Past 11
   Challenge #3: Managing for Globalization—The Expanding Management Universe 11
   Challenge #4: Managing for Information Technology 12
   Challenge #5: Managing for Ethical Standards 12
   Challenge #6: Managing for Sustainability—The Business of Green 14
   Challenge #7: Managing for Your Own Happiness & Life Goals 14

1.3 What Managers Do: The Four Principal Functions 15
   Planning: Discussed in Part 3 of This Book 15
   Organizing: Discussed in Part 4 of This Book 16
   Leading: Discussed in Part 5 of This Book 16
   Controlling: Discussed in Part 6 of This Book 16

1.4 Pyramid Power: Levels & Areas of Management 17
   The Traditional Management Pyramid: Levels & Areas 17
   Three Levels of Management 17
   Areas of Management: Functional Managers Versus General Managers 19
   Managers for Three Types of Organizations: For-Profit, Nonprofit, Mutual-Benefit 20
   Do Managers Manage Differently for Different Types of Organizations? 20

1.5 Roles Managers Must Play Successfully 21
   The Manager’s Roles: Mintzberg’s Useful Findings 21
   Three Types of Managerial Roles 23

1.6 The Entrepreneurial Spirit 25
   Starting Up a Startup: The Origins of Yelp 25
   Entrepreneurship Defined: Taking Risks in Pursuit of Opportunity 26

1.7 The Skills Exceptional Managers Need 29
   1. Technical Skills—The Ability to Perform a Specific Job 29
   2. Conceptual Skills—The Ability to Think Analytically 29
   3. Human Skills—The Ability to Interact Well with People 30
   The Most Valued Traits in Managers 30

Key Terms Used in This Chapter 33
Summary 33
Management in Action 34
Self-Assessment 35
Legal/Ethical Challenge 36

Chapter Two
Management Theory: Essential Background for the Successful Manager 38

2.1 Evolving Viewpoints: How We Got to Today’s Management Outlook 40
   Evidence-Based Management: Facing Hard Facts, Rejecting Nonsense 40
   Two Overarching Perspectives about Management: Historical & Contemporary 41
   Five Practical Reasons for Studying This Chapter 41

2.2 Classical Viewpoint: Scientific & Administrative Management 42
   Scientific Management: Pioneered by Taylor & the Gilbreths 42
   Administrative Management: Pioneered by Fayol & Weber 44
   The Problem with the Classical Viewpoint: Too Mechanistic 45

2.3 Behavioral Viewpoint: Behaviorism, Human Relations, & Behavioral Science 46
   Early Behaviorism: Pioneered by Munsterberg, Follett, & Mayo 46
   The Human Relations Movement: Pioneered by Maslow & McGregor 48
   The Behavioral Science Approach 49

2.4 Quantitative Viewpoints: Management Science & Operations Management 50
   Management Science: Using Mathematics to Solve Management Problems 50
   Operations Management: Being More Effective 51

2.5 Systems Viewpoint 52
   The Systems Viewpoint 53
   The Four Parts of a System 53

2.6 Contingency Viewpoint 55
   Gary Hamel: Management Ideas Are Not Fixed, They’re a Process 56

2.7 Quality-Management Viewpoint 58
   Quality Control & Quality Assurance 58
   Total Quality Management: Creating an Organization Dedicated to Continuous Improvement 58
2.8 The Learning Organization in an Era of Accelerated Change 60
The Learning Organization: Handling Knowledge & Modifying Behavior 60
How to Build a Learning Organization: Three Roles Managers Play 61

Key Terms Used in This Chapter 61
Summary 62
Management in Action 63
Self-Assessment 64
Legal/Ethical Challenge 65

part 2
The Environment of Management

Chapter Three
The Manager's Changing Work Environment & Ethical Responsibilities: Doing the Right Thing 66

3.1 The Community of Stakeholders Inside the Organization 68
To Whom Should a Company Be Responsible? 68
Internal & External Stakeholders 69
Internal Stakeholders 70

3.2 The Community of Stakeholders Outside the Organization 71
The Task Environment 71
The General Environment 75

3.3 The Ethical Responsibilities Required of You as a Manager 78
Defining Ethics & Values 78
Four Approaches to Deciding Ethical Dilemmas 79
White-Collar Crime, SarbOx, & Ethical Training 80
How Organizations Can Promote Ethics 82

3.4 The Social Responsibilities Required of You as a Manager 83
Is Social Responsibility Worthwhile? Opposing & Supporting Viewpoints 84
Corporate Social Responsibility: The Top of the Pyramid 84
One Type of Social Responsibility: Sustainability, "Going Green" 85
Another Type of Social Responsibility: Philanthropy, "Not Dying Rich" 86
How Does Being Good Pay Off? 87

3.5 Corporate Governance 88
The Need for Independent Directors 88
The Need for Trust 89

Key Terms Used in This Chapter 90
Summary 90
Management in Action 91
Self-Assessment 93
Legal/Ethical Challenge 94

Chapter Four
Global Management: Managing Across Borders 96

4.1 Globalization: The Collapse of Time & Distance 98
The Rise of the Global Village & Electronic Commerce 98
One Big World Market: The Global Economy 99
Cross-Border Business: The Rise of Both Megamergers & Minifirms Worldwide 100

4.2 You & International Management 102
Why Learn About International Management? 102
The Successful International Manager: Geocentric, Not Ethnocentric or Polycentric 105

4.3 Why & How Companies Expand Internationally 106
Why Companies Expand Internationally 106
How Companies Expand Internationally 107

4.4 The World of Free Trade: Regional Economic Cooperation 111
Barriers to International Trade 111
Organizations Promoting International Trade 112
Major Trading Blocs: NAFTA, EU, APEC, ASEAN, Mercosur, & CAFTA 113
Most Favored Nation Trading Status 115

4.5 The Importance of Understanding Cultural Differences 116
The Importance of National Culture 117
Cultural Dimensions: The GLOBE Project 117
Other Cultural Variations: Language, Interpersonal Space, Communication, Time Orientation, & Religion 118
U.S. Managers on Foreign Assignments: Why Do They Fail? 123

Key Terms Used in This Chapter 124
Summary 124
Management in Action 126
Self-Assessment 127
Legal/Ethical Challenge 128

part 3
Planning

Chapter Five
Planning: The Foundation of Successful Management 130

5.1 Planning & Uncertainty 132
Planning & Strategic Management 132
Why Not Plan? 132
How Planning Helps You: Four Benefits 133
How Organizations Respond to Uncertainty 134

5.2 Fundamentals of Planning 136
Mission & Vision Statements 136
Three Types of Planning for Three Levels of Management: Strategic, Tactical, & Operational 138
5.3 Promoting Goal Setting: SMART Goals & Management by Objectives 142

SMART Goals 142
What Is MBO? The Four-Step Process for Motivating Employees 143
Cascading Objectives: MBO from the Top Down 145
The Importance of Deadlines 146

5.4 The Planning/Control Cycle 147

Key Terms Used in This Chapter 149
Summary 149
Management in Action 150
Self-Assessment 151
Legal/Ethical Challenge 153

Chapter Six

Strategic Management: How Exceptional Managers Realize a Grand Design 154

6.1 The Dynamics of Strategic Planning 156
Strategy, Strategic Management, & Strategic Planning 156
Why Strategic Management & Strategic Planning Are Important 157
What Is an Effective Strategy? Three Principles 159
Does Strategic Management Work for Small as Well as Large Firms? 160

6.2 The Strategic-Management Process 161
The Five Steps of the Strategic-Management Process 162

6.3 Establishing the Grand Strategy 167
Competitive Intelligence 167
SWOT Analysis 168
Forecasting: Predicting the Future 171

6.4 Formulating Strategy 173
Porter's Five Competitive Forces 173
Porter's Four Competitive Strategies 174
Single-Product Strategy Versus Diversification Strategy 175
The BCG Matrix 177

6.5 Implementing & Controlling Strategy: Execution 178
Execution: Getting Things Done 178
The Three Core Processes of Business: People, Strategy, & Operations 178
Building a Foundation of Execution 179
How Execution Helps Implement & Control Strategy 180

Key Terms Used in This Chapter 182
Summary 182
Management in Action 184
Self-Assessment 185
Legal/Ethical Challenge 186

Chapter Seven

Individual & Group Decision Making: How Managers Make Things Happen 188

7.1 Two Kinds of Decision Making: Rational & Nonrational 190
Decision Making in the Real World 191
Rational Decision Making: Managers Should Make Logical & Optimal Decisions 191
Stage 1: Identify the Problem or Opportunity—Determining the Actual Versus the Desirable 191
Stage 2: Think Up Alternative Solutions—Both the Obvious & the Creative 192
Stage 3: Evaluate Alternatives & Select a Solution—Ethics, Feasibility, & Effectiveness 192
Stage 4: Implement & Evaluate the Solution Chosen 193
What's Wrong with the Rational Model? 195
Nonrational Decision Making: Managers Find It Difficult to Make Optimal Decisions 195

7.2 Evidence-Based Decision Making & Analytics 198
Evidence-Based Decision Making 198
In Praise of Analytics 200
The Uses of "Big Data" 202

7.3 Four General Decision-Making Styles 204
Value Orientation & Tolerance for Ambiguity 204
1. The Directive Style: Action-Oriented Decision Makers Who Focus on Facts 205
2. The Analytical Style: Careful Decision Makers Who Like Lots of Information & Alternative Choices 205
3. The Conceptual Style: Decision Makers Who Rely on Intuition & Have a Long-Term Perspective 206
4. The Behavioral Style: The Most People-Oriented Decision Makers 206
Which Style Do You Have? 206

7.4 Making Ethical Decisions 207
The Dismal Record of Business Ethics 207
Road Map to Ethical Decision Making: A Decision Tree 207

7.5 How to Overcome Barriers to Decision Making 209
Decision Making & Expectations About Happiness 209
How Do Individuals Respond to a Decision Situation? Ineffective & Effective Responses 209
Nine Common Decision-Making Biases: Rules of Thumb, or "Heuristics" 212

7.6 Group Decision Making: How to Work with Others 214
Advantages & Disadvantages of Group Decision Making 214
What Managers Need to Know About Groups & Decision Making 215
Participative Management: Involving Employees in Decision Making 216

Contents xxix
Group Problem-Solving Techniques: Reaching for Consensus 216
More Group Problem-Solving Techniques 217

Key Terms Used in This Chapter 220
Summary 221
Management in Action 223
Self-Assessment 224
Legal/Ethical Challenge 225

part 4
Organizing
Chapter Eight
Organizational Culture, Structure, & Design: Building Blocks of the Organization 226

8.1 What Kind of Organizational Culture Will You Be Operating In? 228
How an Organization's Culture & Structure Are Used to Implement Strategy 228
Four Types of Organizational Culture: Clan, Adhocracy, Market, & Hierarchy 229
The Three Levels of Organizational Culture 231
How Employees Learn Culture: Symbols, Stories, Heroes, & Rites & Rituals 232
The Importance of Culture 232

8.2 Developing High-Performance Cultures 234
Cultures for Enhancing Economic Performance: Three Perspectives 234
The Process of Culture Change 236

8.3 Organizational Structure 238
The Organization: Three Types 238
The Organization Chart 239

8.4 The Major Elements of an Organization 241
Common Elements of Organizations: Four Proposed by Edgar Schein 241
Common Elements of Organizations: Three More That Most Authorities Agree On 242

8.5 Basic Types of Organizational Design 244
1. Traditional Designs: Simple, Functional, Divisional, & Matrix Structures 244
2. The Horizontal Design: Eliminating Functional Barriers to Solve Problems 246
3. Designs That Open Boundaries Between Organizations: Hollow, Modular, & Virtual Structures 249

8.6 Contingency Design: Factors in Creating the Best Structure 251
Four Factors to Be Considered in Designing an Organization's Structure 251
1. The Environment: Mechanistic Versus Organic Organizations—the Burns & Stalker Model 251
2. The Environment: Differentiation Versus Integration—the Lawrence & Lorsch Model 252
3. Life Cycle: Four Stages in the Life of an Organization 253
4. The Link Between Strategy & Structure 254
Getting the Right Fit: What Form of Organizational Structure Works Best? 254

Key Terms Used in This Chapter 255
Summary 255
Management in Action 257
Self-Assessment 259
Legal/Ethical Challenge 260

Chapter Nine
Human Resource Management: Getting the Right People for Managerial Success 262

9.1 Strategic Human Resource Management 264
Human Resource Management: Managing an Organization's Most Important Resource 264
Planning the Human Resources Needed 265

9.2 The Legal Requirements of Human Resource Management 268
1. Labor Relations 268
2. Compensation & Benefits 268
3. Health & Safety 268
4. Equal Employment Opportunity 268

9.3 Recruitment & Selection: Putting the Right People into the Right Jobs 272
Recruitment: How to Attract Qualified Applicants 272
Selection: How to Choose the Best Person for the Job 273

9.4 Orientation, Training, & Development 280
Orientation: Helping Newcomers Learn the Ropes 280
Training & Development: Helping People Perform Better 281

9.5 Performance Appraisal 283
Two Kinds of Performance Appraisal: Objective & Subjective 283
Who Should Make Performance Appraisals? 284
Effective Performance Feedback 286

9.6 Managing an Effective Workforce: Compensation & Benefits 287
Wages or Salaries 287
Incentives 287
Benefits 288

9.7 Managing Promotions, Transfers, Disciplining, & Dismissals 289
Promotion: Moving Upward 289
Transfer: Moving Sideways 289
Disciplining & Demotion: The Threat of Moving Downward 290
Dismissal: Moving Out of the Organization 290
12.2 Content Perspectives on Employee Motivation 378
Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs Theory: Five Levels 378
Alderfer's ERG Theory: Existence, Relatedness, & Growth 380
McClelland's Acquired Needs Theory: Achievement, Affiliation, & Power 381
Herzberg's Two-Factor Theory: From Dissatisfying Factors to Satisfying Factors 383

12.3 Process Perspectives on Employee Motivation 385
Equity Theory: How Fairly Do You Think You're Being Treated in Relation to Others? 385
Expectancy Theory: How Much Do You Want & How Likely Are You to Get It? 387
Goal-Setting Theory: Objectives Should Be Specific & Challenging but Achievable 390

12.4 Job Design Perspectives on Motivation 391
Fitting Jobs to People 391
The Job Characteristics Model: Five Job Attributes for Better Work Outcomes 392

12.5 Reinforcement Perspectives on Motivation 395
The Four Types of Reinforcement: Positive, Negative, Extinction, & Punishment 395
Using Reinforcement to Motivate Employees 396

12.6 Using Compensation & Other Rewards to Motivate 398
Is Money the Best Motivator? 398
Motivation & Compensation 398
Nonmonetary Ways of Motivating Employees 400

Key Terms Used in This Chapter 403
Summary 403
Management in Action 405
Self-Assessment 407
Legal/Ethical Challenge 408

Chapter Fourteen
Power, Influence, & Leadership: From Becoming a Manager to Becoming a Leader 440

14.1 The Nature of Leadership: Wielding Influence 442
Managers & Leaders: Not Always the Same 442
Managerial Leadership: Can You Be Both a Manager & a Leader? 442
Coping with Complexity Versus Coping with Change: The Thoughts of John Kotter 443
Five Sources of Power 444
Leadership & Influence: Using Persuasion to Get Your Way at Work 447
Five Approaches to Leadership 448

14.2 Trait Approaches: Do Leaders Have Distinctive Personality Characteristics? 449
Is Trait Theory Useful? 449
Kouzes & Posner's Research: Is Honesty the Top Leadership Trait? 450
Gender Studies: Do Women Have Traits That Make Them Better Leaders? 450
Leadership Lessons from the GLOBE Project 451

14.3 Behavioral Approaches: Do Leaders Show Distinctive Patterns of Behavior? 452
The University of Michigan Leadership Model 452
The Ohio State Leadership Model 452
14.4 Contingency Approaches: Does Leadership Vary with the Situation? 454
   1. The Contingency Leadership Model: Fiedler’s Approach 454
   2. The Path–Goal Leadership Model: House’s Approach 456
   Applying Situational Theories: Five Steps 459

14.5 The Full-Range Model: Uses of Transactional & Transformational Leadership 460
   Transactional Versus Transformational Leaders 460
   The Best Leaders Are Both Transactional & Transformational 461
   Four Key Behaviors of Transformational Leaders 462
   Implications of Transformational Leadership for Managers 463

14.6 Four Additional Perspectives 464
   Leader–Member Exchange (LMX) Leadership: Having Different Relationships with Different Subordinates 464
   Servant Leadership: Meeting the Goals of Followers & the Organization, Not of Oneself 465
   E-Leadership: Managing for Global Networks 466
   Followers: What Do They Want, How Can They Help? 466

Key Terms Used in This Chapter 467
Summary 468
Management in Action 469
Self-Assessment 470
Legal/Ethical Challenge 472

Chapter Fifteen
Interpersonal & Organizational Communication: Mastering the Exchange of Information 474

15.1 The Communication Process: What It Is, How It Works 476
   Communication Defined: The Transfer of Information & Understanding 476
   How the Communication Process Works 477
   Selecting the Right Medium for Effective Communication 478

15.2 Barriers to Communication 480
   1. Physical Barriers: Sound, Time, Space, & So On 481
   2. Semantic Barriers: When Words Matter 481
   3. Personal Barriers: Individual Attributes That Hinder Communication 482
   Nonverbal Communication: How Unwritten & Unspoken Messages May Mislead 483
   Communication Differences Between Men & Women 485

15.3 How Managers Fit into the Communication Process 488
   Formal Communication Channels: Up, Down, Sideways, & Outward 488
   Informal Communication Channels 490

15.4 Communication in the Information Age 492
   Digital Communication Technology & Workplace Behavior 492
   The “Always On” Generation 492
   Digital Communication & the New Workplace: Videoconferencing, Telecommuting, & Teleworking 494
   The Downside of the Digital Age 495
   Smartphones: Use & Abuse 496
   Social Media: Pros & Cons 497

15.5 Improving Communication Effectiveness 499
   Being an Effective Listener 499
   Being an Effective Reader 500
   Being an Effective Writer 502
   Being an Effective Speaker 502

Key Terms Used in This Chapter 504
Summary 504
Management in Action 506
Self-Assessment 506
Legal/Ethical Challenge 509

part 6
Controlling
Chapter Sixteen
Control Systems & Quality Management: Techniques for Enhancing Organizational Effectiveness 510

16.1 Managing for Productivity 512
   What Is Productivity? 512
   Why Increasing Productivity Is Important 513

16.2 Control: When Managers Monitor Performance 514
   Why Is Control Needed? 514
   Steps in the Control Process 516

16.3 Levels & Areas of Control 519
   Levels of Control: Strategic, Tactical, & Operational 519
   Six Areas of Control 519

16.4 The Balanced Scorecard, Strategy Maps, & Measurement Management 521
   The Balanced Scorecard: A Dashboard-like View of the Organization 521
   Strategy Map: Visual Representation of a Balanced Scorecard 523
   Measurement Management: “Forget Magic” 523

16.5 Some Financial Tools for Control 526
   Budgets: Formal Financial Projections 526
   Financial Statements: Summarizing the Organization’s Financial Status 528
   Ratio Analysis: Indicators of an Organization’s Financial Health 528
   Audits: External Versus Internal 528
16.6 Total Quality Management 530
Deming Management: The Contributions of W. Edwards Deming to Improved Quality 530
Core TQM Principles: Deliver Customer Value & Strive for Continuous Improvement 532
Applying TQM to Services 534
Some TQM Tools and Techniques 535
16.7 Managing Control Effectively 539
The Keys to Successful Control Systems 539
Barriers to Control Success 540
Epilogue: The Keys to Your Managerial Success 542
Key Terms Used in This Chapter 543
Summary 544
Management in Action 545
Self-Assessment 547
Legal/Ethical Challenge 548

Appendix
The Project Planner's Toolkit:
Flowcharts, Gantt Charts, & Break-Even Analysis A1
Tool #1: Flowcharts—for Showing Event Sequences & Alternate Decision Scenarios A1
Tool #2: Gantt Charts—Visual Time Schedules for Work Tasks A3
Tool #3: Break-Even Analysis—How Many Items Must You Sell to Turn a Profit? A4

Chapter Notes CN1–CN52
Credits CR1
Name Index 11–14
Organization/Brand Index 15–18
Glossary/Subject Index 19–126