Cooperatives and Socialism
A View from Cuba

Edited by
Camila Piñeiro Harnecker
Contents

List of Illustrations vii
Acknowledgments viii
Notes on Contributors ix

Introduction Camila Piñeiro Harnecker 1

Part I What is a Cooperative?

1 An Introduction to Cooperatives Jesús Cruz Reyes and Camila Piñeiro Harnecker 25

2 Building Alternatives beyond Cápital Julio C. Gambina and Gabriela Roffinelli 46

Part II Cooperatives and Socialist Thinkers

3 Cooperativism and Self-Management in Marx, Engels, and Lenin Humberto Miranda Lorenzo 63

4 Socialist Cooperativism and Human Emancipation: Lenin's Legacy Iñaki Gil de San Vicente 90

5 Ché Guevara: Cooperatives and the Political Economy of Socialist Transition Helen Yaffe 115

6 Foundations of Self-Managed Socialism: The Contribution of István Mészáros Henrique T. Novaes 143

Part III Cooperatives in Other Countries

7 Mondragón: The Dilemmas of a Mature Cooperativism Larraitz Altuna Gabilondo, Aitzol Loyola Idiacez, and Eneritz Pagalday Tricio 167
Contents

8 Forty years of Self-Management in Popular Housing in Uruguay: The "FUCVAM Model" 190
Benjamín Nahoum

9 Solidarity Economy in Brazil: The Relevance of Cooperatives for the Historic Emancipation of Workers 212
Luiz Inácio Gaiger and Eliene Dos Anjos

10 Worker Self-Management in Argentina: Problems and Potentials of Self-Managed Labor in the Context of the Neoliberal Post-Crisis 235
Andrés Ruggeri

11 From Cooperatives to Enterprises of Direct Social Property in the Venezuelan Process 259
Dario Azzellini

Part IV Cooperatives and Cuba's Path to Socialism

12 Agricultural Cooperatives in Cuba: 1959–Present 279
Armando Nova González

13 The UBPC: A Way of Redesigning State Property with Cooperative Management 292
Emilio Rodríguez Membrado and Alcides López Labrada

14 Notes on the Legal Framework of the Cuban Cooperative Environment 317
Avelino Fernández Peiso

Index 345